To Continue Working

B. A. Wright Receives NYC Gold Pass for 50 Years' Meritorious Service

B. A. Wright of Harrisburg, who Wednesday received a gold pass from the New York Central Railroad Co. for fifty years of meritorious service, today recalled earlier days as an employee of the railroad.

Mr. Wright, a yard conductor, was given the pass, issued to Mr. and Mrs. Wright, by A. F. Smith, trainmaster from Mt. Carmel. Although he has worked for the company for fifty years, he will continue on his job here.

"It has been a pleasure working on this railroad for fifty years," Mr. Wright commented. "Sometimes the work has been hard, yet it has been a pleasure."

"I was sixteen," he continued, "when I began as record clerk at $40 per month, working 12 hours a day, seven days a week. Then I became yard clerk, chief yard clerk, switchman, conductor, assistant yardmaster, yardmaster, general yardmaster and back to conductor."

He said it was when he was general yardmaster when he worked 12 hours every day, and more if necessary.

"I was young and the work seemed too confining; so I went back to work as a conductor," he stated, adding:

"I can say I have never had a bad boss. The officials have all been nice to me. I have never received a demerit mark."

Looking back at the work in the yards, he recalled that "at one time we had 23 operating mines served from the Harrisburg yard, and I imagine that one mine, Peabody 47, worked more men than there are employed in the county today."

"We then had as many as 18 freight trains a day, and two thru passenger trains each way daily," he continued. "We also had a passenger which ran from Harrisburg to Harco and return morning and evening and a train that ran from Eldorado to Cairo and return."

"Yes, there have been many changes which have been caused by competition, most of it subsidized as we all pay heavy taxes to build and maintain our roads. If every form of transportation should pay its own way, like the railroads have done, the railroads would have a brighter future."

Broadway Musical Star

Operatic Singer Ezio Pinza Dies at Age of 65

Pinza, 65, had suffered three strokes since last August but his death came unexpectedly. Just one week ago the matinee idol's wife said he "was resting comfortably."

Pinza was a star for the Metropolitan for 20 years when he suddenly signed to play the lead in the Broadway musical "South Pacific" opposite Mary Martin. His last musical on Broadway was "Fanny."

He became a "new star" overnight—the idol of bobby-soxers, housewives, grandmothers and men of all ages.

Breaks Romantic Tradition

Pinza was a silver-haired grandfather at the time of his Broadway success and upset the stereotyped concept of "the lover." He later went on to score another romantic success in the movie "Mr. Imperium," opposite Lana Turner.

Born the son of a carpenter in Rome, Italy, on May 18, 1892, Pinza made his singing debut with a provincial opera company at Soncino and was an immediate success.

After World War I he joined an opera company and scored successes all over Europe. The Metropolitan signed him up in 1926 where he became a favorite in "Don Giovanni," "Faust," "The Marriage of Figaro" and other operas.

Pinza met his present wife, the former Doris Leak, in 1938 when she was a dancer with the Metropolitan.

In 1940 Miss Leak and Pinza were married. It was the second marriage for the operatic star. Three children were born of this union. Pinza also had a daughter by his first marriage and became a grandfather in 1949 when she had a son.

Pinza suffered his first stroke while on vacation at a villa at Cervia, Italy, last August. It ended his career.

Upon his return to the United States he learned he never would be able to sing again. In December he suffered his second attack.

Pinza was placed in an oxygen tent at his home after his third attack last month and later was reported slightly improved.

Asks Congress Leaders for $38 Million Program

27 Members of House, Senate at White House Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower made a strong appeal to Republican and Democratic congressional leaders today for passage of a foreign aid program of at least $3,880,000,000 for fiscal 1958.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said after the White House conference of more than 90 minutes that Eisenhower probably will submit his detailed program to Congress early next week.

The President originally asked $4,400,000,000 for the mutual security program. Today, he scaled it down to $2,800,000,000 for military assistance and $1,080,000,000 for economic aid.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said he understood from the President's presentation today that the reduction of slightly more than 500 million dollars will be a real saving, not just deferred spending.

In view of the apparent difference of opinion between Eisenhower and Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey over government spending, Johnson said, it will be up to Congress to decide what the final foreign aid figure will be.

"Strong Case" for Cut

"We are confronted with the problem of one voice saying that we must reduce (spending) or have a hair-curling depression and another voice saying, 'If you do, you will endanger the peace and security of the nation,'" Johnson said.

Twenty seven members of Congress—14 Democratic House and Senate leaders and 13 House and Senate Republicans—took part in the meeting.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Walter F. George and James P. Richards, former Democratic members of Congress now working for the administration in the foreign aid field, also participated along with officials of the State and Defense departments and the International Cooperation Administration.

Highway Race Crash Kills 7

POMEROY, Ohio (AP)—Seven persons were dead today as the result of a highway race between two cars that ended in a head-on collision Wednesday night.

Nancy McCoy, Cheshire, one of two persons critically injured with a skull fracture in the crash died early today. The state highway patrol reported six others were killed in the accident or died en route to a hospital.

The patrol said a car driven by John Carter Smith, 21, Middleport, Ohio, was racing with another when Smith attempted to pass a truck.

Smith's car struck head-on a car driven by William Halley, 31, Cheshire. Smith and Halley were killed and their cars demolished.

George R. McCoy Jr., 6, Cheshire, died at the scene and three others were dead on arrival at a hospital here. They were identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Halley, 32, Marshall McCoy, 40, and Mrs. Charles McCoy, 19, all of Cheshire.

The other injured were Mrs. Ruby McCoy, 37, in critical condition with a skull fracture, and Ruth Anny Halley, 8, Cheshire, with minor injuries.

Smith was alone. All the other dead and injured were in the Halley's car.

Hubert Boyd, the truck driver, was uninjured and his vehicle was only slightly damaged.

Pinza suffered his first stroke while on vacation at a villa at Cervia, Italy, last August. It ended his career.

Upon his return to the United States he learned he never would be able to sing again. In December he suffered his second attack.

Pinza was placed in an oxygen tent at his home after his third attack last month and later was reported slightly improved.

Mrs. McCarthy Boomed for Post

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A boom was developing today for the appointment of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's widow to his U. S. Senate seat.

Republican legislators were working to give Gov. Vernon Thomson, a Republican, power to appoint a successor. State law prescribes a special election.

Democrats, led by State Party Chairman Philo Nash, charged that appointment of an interim senator would be "not in the way of a democracy but the way of a dictatorship."

Support for the appointment of Mrs. Jean McCarthy to succeed her husband was led by GOP Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski.

"The voters elected Joe McCarthy and his philosophy for six years," O'Konski said. "There is no one who could represent his point of view better than Jean."

Morrison Justice, 71, Dies; Rites Saturday 1 p. m.

Morrison Justice, 71, of 119 North Michigan street, Harrisburg, died at the Lightner hospital today.

He leaves his sons, Geoffrey O. Justice, James Justice, Howard Justice and Dale Justice, all of Alton, Billie Justice of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and Bobbie Justice of Yuma, Ariz., in the armed forces, and two daughters, Mrs. Mayce Welch of Alton and Mrs. Hazel Williams of Mitchellville.

He is survived by his brother Ed Justice of Los Angeles, Calif., and a half-brother, Lefe Justice, of Farmington, Mich.; also two half-sisters, Mrs. Rosa Yoder of River Rouge, Mich., and Mrs. Vera Martin of Evansville, Ind. There are ten grandchildren surviving.

The funeral will be held in the Jones church, south of Equality, at 1 p. m. Saturday. The body, in the care of the Gibbons funeral home, will be taken to the family residence at 119 Michigan street at 1 p. m. Friday to lie in state there until funeral time. Rev. Clifford Potter will officiate at the funeral and burial will be in the Jones church cemetery.

Death Takes Causie Travis, 61; Funeral Sunday

Causie Travis, 61, of Gaskins City, died at the Harrisburg hospital at 4:40 p. m. Wednesday. He was preceded in death by his wife, Mable, in August of 1956. He was a retired coal miner and had been a resident of Saline county all of his life.

Mr. Travis is survived by his three children, Robert Travis of Peoria, James Travis of Harrisburg and Mrs. Mildred Deering of RFD 2, Stonefort. There are nine grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Roy Sheffield of Harrisburg, surviving, and four half sisters, Mrs. Ethel Cantrell, Mrs. May McClusky, Mrs. Margaret Brakey and Mrs. Pearl Hedger, all of Harrisburg.

The body will lie in state at the Turner funeral home until the funeral Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Dorrisville Baptist church. The Rev. William Fuson will officiate at the funeral.

Rabies Vaccination

A rabies vaccination clinic sponsored by the Harrisburg Humane society will be held from 1 to 5 p. m. Saturday on the Cherry street side of the Harrisburg city hall. Cost of the vaccination is $1.75 per animal. All dogs over three months can be vaccinated, it was stated.

House Approves Bill To Double State Police Force

Plymouth, Mass. Residents Flee Forest Blaze

BOSTON (AP)—Fearful residents fled their homes in a section of historic Plymouth today in the face of a rampaging forest fire. The blaze was one of scores which have seared thousands of acres of dry New England woodlands.

Men, women and children left at least 16 homes in Manomet Four Corners, a village of Plymouth where the Pilgrims first touched American soil.

The racing flames were fought by 5,000 men, including prison inmates, who were thrown into the battle to save lives and property.

The fire started in thickly treed Myles Standish Reservation on the outskirts of Plymouth. It raced unchecked toward the sea.

The 48 prisoners joined National Guardsmen, firemen and volunteers in the fight against the common enemy.

New England was mobilized for the worst forest fire peril since 1947, when woodland blazes leveled more than 1,000 homes and killed 16 persons.

A state of emergency was declared in Massachusetts where, a state official predicted, "all hell will break loose" today.

The state was the worst hit in a rash of forest and brush fires which continued to sweep across New England. More than 80 blazes were reported, 14 of which assumed major proportions.

Other brush and forest fires were reported in Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, and Rhode Island.

In Massachusetts, the worst forest fire outbreak in ten years prompted Gov. Foster Furcolo to declare a state of emergency Wednesday night as two major forest fires raged out of control.

House Passes Bill to Increase Pay Of Legislators to $6,000 Per Year

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The House today passed 136-6 a bill to increase its own pay and that of the Senate from $5,000 a year to $6,000.

The bill, to which Gov. William G. Stratton has indicated he has no objection, now goes to the Senate.

The Senate, meanwhile passed and sent to the governor a bill which would hold parents financially responsible for acts of wilful destruction by their children, up to $300.

Another bill sent to the governor for approval would fix the maximum compensation of election judges and clerks in primaries and elections at $25 a day.

At the same time chances for passage of a mandatory daylight saving time bill by the Legislature were all but dead.

opposition to any daylight time bill Wednesday when it soundly defeated a measure sponsored by Sen. Clarence E. Sprinkle (R-Assumption), a southern Illinois farmer who said he wanted to end the "confusion" which results from parts of the state going on daylight time and other parts remaining on standard time.

The Senate voted, 24-17, to kill the bill, which originally would have provided for mandatory daylight time throughout the state from the last Sunday in April through the last Sunday in September.

A similar bill is pending in the House, but it narrowly escaped final defeat last week. Its sponsor hastily postponed a final vote when he saw the bill headed for defeat.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to reorganize the Budgetary Commission, increase its membership and give it more authority and a staff to help prepare the state budget.

The bill would provide for an executive director of the commission, add four legislative members to the six now on the commission.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House a bill to create a new division of alcoholism in the Public Welfare Department to head a program for rehabilitation, care and treatment of alcoholics. The bill carries a $300,000 appropriation to be financed by a two cents a gallon increase in the state tax on alcoholic beverages.

Other measures passed by the Senate and sent to the House would: Appropriate $10,551 to Beulah H. Maxwell, widow of late Supreme Court Justice Ralph Maxwell, Nashville. The money is the amount of salary Maxwell would have earned had he lived out his term.

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A floor fight was promised today over the House Industry Committee's rejection of a bill to ban "organizational picketing" by labor unions where the unions do not represent a majority of the employees of a company and where no labor dispute exists.

The committee voted, 25 - 16, Wednesday to recommend that the bill "do not pass."

But Rep. Harold Widmer (R-Freepport) said he would move on the House floor to overrule the committee vote and call the bill for a floor vote of the entire House.

The Industry Committee voted after hearing testimony against the bill by labor union representatives. The House chamber was crowded by more than 500 union representatives during the hearing.

Witnesses in favor of the bill had been heard at an earlier meeting.

The union witnesses testified the bill was "anti labor" and "more restrictive than the Taft-Hartley Act" which, they said, does not ban organizational picketing.

Harold Katz, Chicago, a lawyer for the United Auto Workers, said the bill would make it possible for employers to fire workers who joined a union and thus "forever" prevent union organization of his employees.

He cited as an example a hypothetical case in which a firm had 10 employees. If 6 of them joined a union in the morning, he said, and asked for recognition of the union as their bargaining agent, the employer could fire 2 of them and thus eliminate the union's representation of a majority of his employees.

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The administration bill to double the state police force went to the Senate today with House approval which sparked charges of a new "deal" between Gov. William G. Stratton and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The House passed the message 138-27 Wednesday over the bitter opposition of the Illinois Sheriffs Assn. and with the unexpected support of Chicago Democrats.

The House also passed Stratton's highway safety program bills for an increase from $1 to $3 in the drivers license fee with the additional money to go to high school driver training programs, to require re-examination of drivers at the age of 70, and set standards for chemical tests for drunken driving.

The bill to add 500 men to the state police force and provide for an additional 100 to patrol the toll roads now abiding had been advanced to passage stage Monday.

But Rep. George Saal (D-Pekin), a former Tazewell County sheriff and members of the sheriffs association, succeeded Wednesday in a move to bring the measure back to second reading for amendment.

When Saal was successful in this move, Democratic Minority Leader Joseph L. de LaCour, Chicago, asked for a ten minute recess for a caucus of Cook County Democrats. The Democrats then returned to the floor and word quickly spread that Daley had directed Democratic support of the governor.

Two amendments, one to reduce the increase to 200 men and one to limit state police to highway patrol duties, were then defeated by big margins, with Chicago Democrats voting solidly against them.

Rep. Leo Pfeffer (D-Seymour) then arose and recalled the "deal" between Stratton and Daley in 1955 on the sales tax increase. "I understand the orders are out again today," he said, "I question the power of one man in Cook County to control votes in this House" and "I don't think it is right" for Stratton and Daley to "sell the people of 101 other counties in this state down the river."

Schools Get Money Pfeffer suggested the "deal" would result in Republican support for financial aid for the Chicago Transit Authority.

During the day House members had been flooded with telegrams and phone calls from members of the sheriffs association in which State Treasurer Elmer Hoffman is executive secretary.

The association was against the state police increase on grounds state police are "infringing" on the duties of sheriffs.

The driver training bill and the drivers license fee increase would be used to reimburse school districts, up to $30 per pupil who completed a driving course.

Rep. Paul Powell and other Democrats and the Republican chairman of the School Problems Commission, Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh (R-Champaign) charged the governor's $225 million dollar budget for state school aid was too low and that the money proposed for driver training could be better used for teaching basic subjects such as the "three R's."

The council Tuesday voted to change the parking meter costs on the lot from a nickel for an hour to a nickel for 90 minutes. Although the meters have not been changed Mr. Price has received assurances from Chief of Police Ross Lane that motorists who use the lot will get 90 minutes for each five cents deposited.

Mr. Price urged other persons who work uptown to use the parking lots so that the street meters will be available for shoppers. He also asked clerks who park on the streets, not to park in front of the other fellow's business.

Mad Dog Attacks Marion Police Car

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A mad dog attacked a police car here Wednesday.

Police Chief Charles Edwards said a rabid Dalmatian leaped onto the hood of the patrol car in an attempt to get at him and patrolman Jack Stevens.

"He lunged at me about five times when I tried to get out," said Edwards.

Finally, Stevens put the car in reverse to roll the dog from the hood.

The dog then tried to jump through the door of a nearby house before the officers were able to destroy it.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Ohio Businessman Hit By Budget Complaints; Battle Of Budget Harder On Ike Than Battle Of The Bulge; Nixon Caught In Middle.

WASHINGTON. — A businessman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce variety got a taste of his own budget medicine from Congressman Wayne Hays of Ohio
the other day.

William J. Hull of Cincinnati, representative of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, called on the Ohio Democrat on behalf of Ohio industrialists and Chambers of Commerce to urge more money than the budget allows for the Pike Island dam. He wanted to triple the money in the budget for study of the dam in order to get the dam started sooner.

"You're the people who are writing me letters about economy," replied Congressman Hays after listening carefully. "You're the people who want to cut out sewage disposal. You want to cut out all funds for cancer research and for the cure of heart disease.
Yet now you come along when something is going to benefit you and your companies and you want the budget increased."

"I'm tired of people who want economy for others but more money for themselves," continued Hays.
"I've got stacks of mail on my desk from your people urging economy. And I'll vote for it where I can. But I'm not going to cut everybody else and raise you."

The Pike dam would replace three dams on the Ohio river with one dam, thereby saving navigation time to those using the river, among them Weirton Steel. Congressman Hays said he favored the dam, but did not favor spending extra money to speed it up.

Mr. Hull picked up his hat and walked out.

"BATTLE OF THE BULGE"
The battle of the budget is shaping up as a bigger problem for President Eisenhower than the Battle of the Bulge was for General Eisenhower.

In the Battle of the Bulge, crack Naz SS troops infiltrated the Ardenes Forest during the closing days of 1944 and routed Ike's 108th Division. But General Eisenhower, though taken by surprise, did not have to cope with disloyalty from his own troops.

In the battle of the budget, President Eisenhower's chief problem is disloyalty from within his own ranks.

He has trouble not only with his own top cabinet officer, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, but rank-and-file Republicans supposed to fight for him.

It's supposed to be a strict secret, but the Republican congressional committee has actually hired a research director, Harkey Reiter, to fight against the Eisenhower budget. His job is to dig out facts and figures aimed at undercutting the budget submitted by the head of the Republican party. Yet he is paid by one segment of the Republican party, by Republican money raised by Republicans to keep Republicans in office.

It is unprecedented for this money to be used against a Republican President.

In addition, right-wing Republicans congressmen have set up a super-secret task force to battle against their own President.

Heading the secret task force is Congressman John Ray of New York, former vice president and general counsel of American Telephone and Telegraph. Working with Ray are Congressman Bob Wilson of California, John Byrnes of Wisconsin, Gerald Ford of Michigan, John Rhodes of Arizona and Melvin Laird of Wisconsin.

Wilson was active in Vice President Nixon's previous campaigns.
Rhodes is a water-boy for Arizona's Barry Goldwater, probably the most outspoken anti-Eisenhower Republican in the Senate.

Curiously, Laird formerly worked for Wisconsin's Gov. Walter Koehler, supposed to be a strong Eisenhower Republican and a former critic of the late Senator McCarthy.

The existence of this group has been carefully concealed, not only from the press, but from "modern Republicans." Anyone who pries too closely is told that the group's official function is to prepare an expose of the nation's "fiscal policies for the past 20 years." This research will blast past Democratic budgets, of course, but it is really aimed at the Eisenhower budget and is part of the conservative bid to capture party control from Ike's modern Republicans.

UNHAPPY DICK NIXON
The man caught in the middle is Vice President Nixon, who is obligated to defend the Eisenhower budget and also hopes to be the liberal Republican candidate for the presidency in 1960. Nixon, however, doesn't want to antagonize the powerful Chamber of Commerce crowd. As a result, he has been doing political contortions, trying to keep on both sides of the budget fence.

Though he's reported to have given secret encouragement to the conservatives, in all his public pronouncements he has weakly defended the Eisenhower budget.

One of the most significant aspects of the budget battle is the way business and Regular Republicans have been working together. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce scheduled its annual meeting in Washington at a time when its members could swarm over Capitol Hill buttonholing congressmen to cut the budget.
They did an effective job.

When General Eisenhower fought the Battle of the Bulge he was able to throw in troops from the continent of Europe, even rush extra divisions from the U. S. A.
But in the battle of the budget so far he has been able to use only his own White House staff, plus his own voice. With a few exceptions, Republican congressmen aren't battling for him. They are afraid first, he might change his mind regarding the budget and leave them out on a limb. Second, cutting the budget is too popular at home. Third, Ike has not gone to bat for those, like Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, who have gone to bat for him.

MUDDY HANDOUT
New Hampshire's amiable Sen.
Styles Bridges just returned from Texas where he went to sympathize with friends whose farms were dried up by the worst drought in Texas history. By the time he arrived there, a heavy downpour had hit Texas.

Telling the story, Bridges reported: "It was raining cats and dogs. The whole state was turning into a sea of mud. The farmers were having great trouble wading through the mud to cash their drought checks."

Health Education
Workshop at SIU This Summer

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Two state agencies, three state associations, a national organization, and a state university will pool their resources this summer to conduct a four-week Health Education Workshop at Southern Illinois University.

First of its kind in Illinois, the workshop is designed for public school teachers, offering four quarter hours of college credit. "Health
—What To Teach and How To Teach It" is the theme.

Sessions will be conducted from 1 to 5 p. m. on weekdays beginning June 17 and continuing through July 12, according to the director, Dr. Edward K. Grissom, SIU associate professor of health education.

Main topics to be discussed are mental health, care of the body, faith in a scene from "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," in color, to show at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

nutrition, and prevention of disease.

Some of the state's leading physicians, nutritionists, and health educators will speak during the workshop, according to Dr. Grissom.

Registrations are now being accepted by the University. Information regarding stipends may be obtained by writing to Dr. Grissom at the SIU Health Education Department.

Sponsoring the workshop with SIU are the State Department of Public Health and the State Department of Public Welfare. Co-sponsoring organizations are the Illinois Tuberculosis Association, Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Illinois Heart Association, and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

5 out of 10 Smaller Cars wear a Pontiac Price Tag
—yet none give you Any of Pontiac's Advantages

PONTIAC GIVES YOU UP TO 8.9% MORE SOLID
CAR PER DOLLAR!

Not one of the smaller cars can give you the heavy-duty construction, the road-hugging holt and solid security that surround you in every Pontiac. Yet Pontiac's the nimblest heavyweight you ever managed—and your Pontiac dealer can show you more than six dozen advanced-engineering reasons why!
Pontiac has gone all out to make this genuine big car the most docile package of might you ever had the pleasure of boosing. You'll find Pontiac's exclusive Precision-Touch Controls make steering and braking the surest, easiest you've ever experienced! Park it, cruise it, try it in stop-and-go traffic... this is driving the smaller jobs can't possibly equal.

PONTIAC GIVES YOU
4 TO 7 INCHES MORE WHEELBASE!

The small cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big—but Pontiac puts the extra length where it counts—between the wheels! Here's extra length that brackets the bumps instead of riding on them. And this extra length shows up inside, too, in stretch-out space for six footers. Add to Pontiac's bonus in length its all-new suspension system and you have an exclusive Level-Line Ride no car at any price can surpass... and a built-in sense of direction and security that will spoil you for the smaller cars forever!

PONTIAC'S PERFORMANCE TOPS THE BEST THE SMALL CARS CAN OFFER—BY A WIDE MARGIN!

Not one of the smaller cars can measure up to Pontiac Performance. Whether you judge a power plant by engineering statistics or on-the-road performance, Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 stands head and shoulders above anything in the low-price field. Your Pontiac dealer will be happy to show you a complete facts-and-figures comparison—then an eye-opening test drive in traffic or out on the highway will supply all the heart-lifting proof you need that Pontiac has separated the men from the boys when it comes to performance!

—AND PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMOUS AS ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP TRADE-INS!

Maybe it comes as a surprise to you that so much more car can be yours at the same price you've seen on the smaller cars. But there's the fact! And Pontiac is a wonderful investment, too! As you know, it has always commanded a top trade-in. So why not step out of the small-car class and into a Pontiac... there's nothing in your way. Your Pontiac dealer has the keys and an eye-opening offer waiting for you right now!

So why not look and feel like a million—instead of a million others?

Social and Personal Items

Parents Of U. of I. Students Attend Mother-Daughter Weekend

Visitors from Harrisburg, visiting at the University of Illinois last Saturday and Sunday, included Mrs. B. G. Funkhouser, Saline county chairman for the Mother's Association of the U. of I. whose daughter Ann is a student at the university; Mrs. John Belt, mother of Judy Belt, sophomore, and Judy's aunt, Mrs. John Towle; Mrs. Frank P. Skaggs, visiting her son "Bill"; Mrs. Bruce Polk, mother of Charles Polk, sophomore; Mrs. Henry Winkelman, visiting her daughter, Dorothy, a freshman; Mrs. George L. Butler, mother of Norma, freshman; Mrs. Hazel E. Wollesen, mother of Judy Morse, sophomore; Mrs. Harold Berns of Carrier Mills, whose son is Max Berns, a sophomore; and Mrs. Oscar Hanning, mother of Dorothy Jane Hanning. Mr. and Mrs. George B. Lee drove up for Sunday to see their son, John Lee.

There were more activities for the parents' pleasure than could have possibly been attended by any one person, but among those most discussed in reviewing the week end were the Varsity-Alumni football game on Saturday afternoon, the coffee for the mothers in the Illini building from 9 to 10 a. m. Saturday morning, banquets for mothers of daughters of many groups and musical and dramatic productions presented by the students for their parents' entertainment.

Mrs. Funkhouser carried the dues for the Mother's Association to the meeting for several of the Saline county members who could not attend. She registered their names, continuing their memberships, as the dues were received.

Mrs. Curtis Oehler of San Diego, Calif., is visiting this week with her mother, Mrs. Bertha Rains, her brother, Lloyd Rains and family, and her sister, Mrs. Fred Crabb. Mr. Crabb and family, all of Harrisburg. Mrs. Oehler is a former resident of Harrisburg and is visiting here following her visit which began the first of May, with her son, Jack Schutt, of Evansville, Ind., and his wife and baby.

Baptist G. A.'s Hold Mother-Daughter Banquet

The G. A.'s of the First Baptist church honored their mothers with a mother-daughter banquet Monday evening in the church. The girls presented each mother with a corsage to wear at the party.

The meeting opened with group singing and Mrs. D. A. Hiller was the speaker for the evening.

Mrs. Paul Baker and Mrs. Lee House are the counsellors and the girls appreciate their work for the group. They also were aware of the fine job of cooking and serving the banquet by the women of the church.

Mother's and guests honored at this dinner were Mrs. Victor Mitchell, Mrs. Bert Trammel, Mrs. Glen Gelsosky, Mrs. Mary Lindsay, Mrs. Paul McSparin, Mrs. Clifford Bond, Mrs. Wayne Evans, Mrs. Wm. Noonan, Mrs. Charles Wasson, Mrs. M. P. McDonald, Mrs. Albert Sisk, Mrs. Raymond Stump, Mrs. Earl Kilburn, Mrs. Elmer Tallas, Mrs. Leland Armistead, Mrs. Kenneth P. Butterfield, Mrs. Lee House, Mrs. Paul Baker, Mrs. D. A. Hiller, Mrs. Betty Davis, Mrs. Mary Lois Bynum, Mrs. Thomas Clevenger, Mrs. John C. Hayes and Mrs. Junior Hetherington.

Cornelia Leavell BWC Meets For May Dinner Meeting

The Cornelia Leavell BWC of the First Baptist church met Tuesday evening at 6:30 in the Educational building dining room.

Twenty-two members and one visitor met for a delicious dinner and the Royal Service W. M. U. program. After dinner and the business meeting, Mrs. C. B. Pulliam presented the program on "Broken Cisterns" by Sibel Townsend. Group singing led by Mrs. LaVerne Clayton, and followed by a solo by Mrs. Clayton opened the meeting.

The devotional, given by Mrs. Pulliam, was from John 4:5-14; Jeremiah 2:13. Mrs. Otho Josey gave the topic, "Thirsty Children"; Mrs. H. D. Spence, gave "Satisfied With Good Things"; Mrs. Mary Musgrave gave "America's Broken Cisterns" and Mrs. Jessie Wiley gave "The Living Water." Mrs. Pulliam gave the closing meditation.

Meeting was adjourned with prayer for more Christian homes and special prayer for the revival which is to begin Sunday with the pastor, Rev. Joe Morman, doing the preaching.

Presents Travelogue At Ridgway Meeting

Mrs. Eleanor Stinnett of Harrisburg presented a travelogue, illustrated with slides, made during her travels of last summer, to Psi chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma sorority meeting in Ridgway Saturday.

Psi chapter held the final meeting for this year in the Presbyterian church and it included a board meeting, luncheon and regular business meeting with Mrs. Stinnett supplying the program part of the meeting.

Mrs. Stinnett, an active member of Delta Kappa Gamma since 1941, served as treasurer since 1949. Mrs. Ida Mae Thompson succeeds her in this office.

Other Harrisburg members attending were Miss Alvina Sheshtak, Miss Alice Mount, Miss Julia Williamson, Mrs. Bessie Kerley and Mrs. Mayme Carroll. Bernadine Mathews of Grayville is the recording secretary.

Union Grove Home Bureau Meets With Mrs. James Bond

The Union Grove Home Bureau unit met at the home of Mrs. James Bond of Galatia RFD 2 recently.

Mrs. Charles Conwell led a round table discussion for the major topic, "Blood and its uses." Mrs. John Waladis directed the recreation and the prize was won by Mrs. Byford Reynolds. Mrs. Wilbern Bond, unit chairman, presided at the business meeting, and refreshments were served by the hosts.

Attending were Mrs. Henry Clark, Mrs. Charles Conwell, Mrs. John Waladis, Mrs. Otis Stone, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Mrs. Luther Beers, Mrs. Lee Edwards, Mrs. Byford Reynolds, Mrs. Hobart Somers, Mrs. Wilbern Bond, Mrs. Noel Bond and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Andersen are visiting friends and relatives in Harrisburg, en route to their home in Estes Park, Colo. They have been in Hot Springs, Ark., and other southern cities during the past winter.

Jane McRae Circle Meets With Mrs. Randall Reed

The Jane McRae circle met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Randall Reed, 514 North Main street, with eleven members attending.

The meeting opened with prayer led by Mrs. Vera Benson. Mrs. Ed Creek, chairman, presided over the business meeting. Committee reports were given.

Mrs. J. B. Moore read Samuel 1:1-11 for the devotion, followed in prayer by Mrs. Corby Wickham. The program was taken from the testimonies of three missionaries, relating the influence in their homes of their Christian mothers. Mrs. Everett Hood, Mrs. Archie Abney and Mrs. Corby Wickham presented this part of the program.

Mrs. Louie Beltz read, "A Real Home." Refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour.

HTHS Students

Receive Ratings

At State Contest

HTHS students who had rated "superior" in the District 16 music contest, were taken to the Taylorville high school Saturday, where they were contestants in the state final music contest.

John Schork and Marshall Cochran accompanied the students.

The ratings given the contestants were as follows: Paula Reynolds, piano solo, excellent; Patricia Moore, flute solo, accompanied by Mrs. Hart, excellent; John Maszaros, clarinet solo, accompanied by Paula Reynolds, superior; clarinet quartet composed of John Maszaros, Janet Thompson, Jo Anne Priest and Allen Burbank, accompanied by Mr. Schork, superior; and Philip Kane, vocal solo, superior.

Superior rating is the highest rating that the judges may award, and excellent is the next highest rating.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Luther Wasson who passed away one year ago May 9, 1956.

I have lost my life's companion,
A life linked with my own;
And every day I miss him more,
As I walk through life alone.

Surrounded by friends I am lonesome,
In the midst of my joys I am
blue;
With a smile on my face, I've a heartache,
Longing, dear husband for you.

I never knew that hearts could ache
With such bitter pain,
Longing for a vanished face,
To hear his voice again.

I never knew that nights could be so lonely, cold, and dim.
But Oh, I learned so many things because of losing him.
God only knows how much we miss him.

Never shall his memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where he is laid.
Sadly missed by wife, Ora Was-
son, and children. 265-1

The Future Farmers 4-H club met in the home of the leader, Mrs. R. L. Morris, recently. The president, Bill Rann, called the meeting to order and six members answered roll call. They were Ralph Gann, Billy Rann, Denny Murphy, Carl Ray Hall, Ellen Jane Morris and Jimmy Bond. Visitors were Fern Adams, Veneta Bond and Ellen Morris.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. There was a discussion about a wiener roast and it was postponed. The members voted to visit each other's projects and they spoke of the showing of member projects.

Hoak Hits Grand-Slammer, Hacker Wins Third Game As Reds Defeat Dodgers, 7-6

By United Press

Don Hoak and Warren Hacker provide iron-clad evidence today that General Manager Gabe Paul has scored another trade coup in his efforts to bring the Cincinnati Redlegs their first pennant since 1940.

Acquired from the Chicago Cubs Nov. 13 for pitcher Elmer Singleton and infielder Ray Jablonski, Hoak and Hacker were key figures as the Redlegs ran their winning streak to nine games Wednesday night with a 7-6 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Hoak blasted a grand-slam homer in the eighth inning to give the Redlegs their winning margin while Hacker gained his third win of the year—the same number he scored all last year for the Cubs.

The triumph moved the Redlegs to within a half-game of the first-place Milwaukee Braves, who suffered a 2-1 loss to the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Chicago Cubs walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-1, and the Phillies handed the Braves their third straight defeat behind a seven-hit pitching effort by rookie Don Cardwell. Cardwell,

St. Louis Cardinals routed the New York Giants, 13-4, in other N. L. games. In the American League, the Cleveland Indians beat the New York Yankees, 10-4, the Boston Red Sox downed the Chicago White Sox, 4-1, the Detroit Tigers mauled the Washington Senators, 11-3, and the Baltimore Orioles whipped the Kansas City Athletics, 11-2.

Hoak, a .215-hitter last season when he went 0-for-12 against Don Newcombe, connected for his grand slam off the big Brooklyn right hander to snap a 3-3 tie and negate Gil Hodges' three-run homer in the bottom of the eighth. Hoak increased his league-leading average to .415. He also leads the circuit with 21 runs batted in.

Substitute first baseman George Crowe, also acquired in one of Paul's trades in 1955, accounted for Cincinnati's first three runs with a pair of homers. Crowe, filling in for the injured Ted Kluszewski now has hit five homers. Hershel Freeman finished up for Hacker.

The Phillies handed the Braves their third straight defeat behind a seven-hit pitching effort by rookie Don Cardwell. Cardwell, who won his second game, made Danny O'Connell his ninth strike-out victim to end the game after doubles by Johnny Logan and Bill Bruton produced the Braves' run in the ninth. Bob Bowman's sacrifice fly drove in Philadelphia's winning run in the sixth.

Dick Drott, 20-year-old rookie, pitched a six-hitter as the Cubs won their third straight game and dealt the Pirates their fourth straight loss.

Hal Smith knocked in six runs and Stan Musial collected three hits in the Cardinals' 19-hit assault on Johnny Antonelli and four successors.

Gene Woodling and Vic Wertz blasted three-run homers and rookie Roger Maris hit a two-run round-tripper as the Indians routed Art Ditmar and made it two straight over the Yanks. Early Wynn, aided by relief artist Ray Narleski, gained his third victory despite Mickey Mantle's fourth homer of the season which accounted for all New York's runs.

Ted Williams slammed out three homers to raise his average to .474 and account for all the Red Sox' runs. Ted homered off Bob Keegan in the first and third innings and then walloped a two-run blast in the eighth to seal the White Sox' fifth straight loss. Frank Sullivan pitched a four-hitter for his second triumph.

Bill Loes pitched an eight-hitter and Billy Gardner and Gus Triandos homered for the Orioles, who stopped the Athletics' longest winning streak in two years at four straight.

Invent New Way to Wash Coal with Air

Makers Plan Manufacture Of Units in Area

By SAM HANCOCK

United Press Staff Correspondent
MARTON, Ill. (UP)—A Marton and Chicago mining engineers teamed up to invent a new way to wash coal with air and the plan to manufacture the units in southern Illinois.

The inventors are Emory O. Miligan, 45, Marton, and Ralph Loquist, Chicago. Miligan is a preparation engineer for the Peabody Coal Corp. Loquist is president and vice president of their newly formed Elem Corp., which will maintain offices in Chicago and Marton.

Their invention is a suction air washer for "cool and the like." "We expect to begin production of the suction air washer in August somewhere in southern Illinois," Miligan said. Miligan first got the idea for the new type washer about four years ago.

Eight Months' Work
"Because of the increasing demand for higher BTU coal, the coal industry has been faced with the problem of the development of a machine that would clean coal without the use of water," Miligan said. Dry coal, he explained, has a higher BTU.

BTU stands for British Thermal Units, a measurement to indicate the amount of heat produced by a given volume of coal. Miligan and Loquist recently completed their first washer after working on it eight months. They have had six bids for it, but plan to use the first one themselves.

They plan to process a million tons of fine coal at the former No. 7 mine at Royallton. The washer prepares coal for stoker and industrial uses. Processes All Sizes
In the suction air washer operation, fine coal is fed into a patented deck. Jets of air from a series of manifolds on the side of the washer suspend the coal in the air. But rock and other heavy matter that won't burn falls through a patented vibrating screen.

Their first suction air washer processes 50 tons of coal an hour and takes up only 16 cubic feet of space. It will process any size coal up to one inch practically, Miligan said. The technique may have other uses, he said. A man in Utah, he said, is shipping a mixture of coal and resin for a test in an attempt to recover both materials.

Among the advantages of the air suction washer is that it eliminates the problems of coal freezing in railroad cars which happens when it is washed with water, he said. It also eliminates the danger of steam pollution from the waste products of the water method.

G. G. Mugge has filed a damage suit against the New York Central railroad, asking a $1,636.75 judgment for burned crops.

Sen. Kennedy Tongue-Lashes Brewery Official at Beck Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) charged today that one of the nation's biggest brewers "engaged in an abnormal business relationship" with Teamster Union President Dave Beck to get information on his competitors.

Sen. Kennedy, a member of the Senate Labor Rackets Committee, tongue-lashed John L. Wilson, executive vice president of Anheuser-Busch Inc., brewers of Budweiser and other beers.

The committee is investigating charges that Beck misused his power as union president to favor his own purse.

Sen. Kennedy said evidence showed that Anheuser-Busch gave Beck the nation's largest Budweiser distributorship, shipped him special orders of beer when the supply was short, offered to buy him out at a high price after having trouble with him, and extended credit to someone else could buy him out.

Sen. Kennedy added that Wilson testified he called on Beck to settle a construction strike at an Anheuser-Busch plant in Los Angeles. He charged that Wilson also went to Beck to get "completely improper information" on whether other brewers would resist a Teamster demand for a wage increase in California.

Three Still Missing

"Mr. Beck has engaged in an abnormal relationship not to Mr. Beck's credit or your company's," Kennedy told Wilson.

Under questioning by the senator's younger brother, committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy, Wilson said he had gone to Beck for "advice" on labor matters.

Previously the committee had heard testimony that Beck forced out the head of the beer distributing company in favor of Dave Beck Jr.

The committee wants to question Beck Jr., but Counsel Kennedy said he and two others sought by the senators had slipped into Canada and probably would not return.

Other brewing company officials had identified correspondence and inter-office memoranda showing the firm's "unhappiness" over Beck's domination of the wholesale beverage company which distributed Budweiser in an area blanketing Alaska and much of the Northwest.

In testimony Wednesday Beck Sr. refused to answer questions. He even refused to tell the committee if he knew his 36-year-old son.

Memorial Service For Harry B. Barter

The Rev. Wm. Burroughs and elders Sam Cape and S. M. Farrar attended a meeting of Cairo Presbytery at Ava yesterday. A memorial service was conducted by the Rev. Offspring Forgotten

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — A father who left his 6-year-old son unclaimed for one month in the General Hospital explained to police that "we were moving and in the confusion we forgot a few things." The boy, Clarence Hicks, had been admitted to the hospital for an ear infection. When no one claimed the boy after a month, police were notified. They found the parents in Milton, Ont.

Polish Prelate Visits Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski may stay here as long as two months for an extensive Roman Catholic Church study of the position of its members behind the Iron Curtain, informed sources said today.

The Polish primate, who arrived here Wednesday night, was expected to spend today resting and conferring with his five-man staff in their quarters at the convent of the Holy Family.

Although strict secrecy shrouded his schedule, Vatican sources said he was not likely he would have his first interview with Pope Pius XII today as had been expected. There was no reason given.

The cardinal's arrival was a psychological victory for Catholicism in its ideological battle with Communism for the 75 million church members who live behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains.

Vatican sources said the major purpose of the visit would be a "thorough examination" of possible ways of improving the situation of Poland's 25 million Catholics under the yoke of Communism.

Committee Approves $1.5 Million School Construction Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Education and Labor Committee today approved a $1,500,000 school construction program.

The vote was 20-9. The committee completed action on the bill after more than a week of secret sessions on the bill.

The compromise bill now must get clearance from the House Rules Committee before it can go to the House floor for action. The measure was given little chance of being passed by Congress.

Food Processors Say Life Easier For Housewife

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food processors told Congress today that housewives save time and sometimes money by buying speedy pasty mixes and ready-made dinners.

But Dr. Persia Campbell, a consumer consultant, said that a number of housewives complain new food processing methods result in making it difficult to find, for example, the chicken in the frozen chicken pies.

The views were outlined in testimony prepared for a house Agriculture subcommittee which has set out to find ways of reducing the cost of living. It is studying the spread between farm and retail food prices which now accounts for 60 cents out of every consumer food dollar.

The processors were represented by Robert H. Bingham, administrative vice president of Grocery Manufacturers of America Inc., which represents 300 of the nation's leading food processors.

He pinned major blame for the rise in the price spreads on "rising cost rates, particularly the higher cost of wages and taxes."

He said combined net profits for food manufacturers and distributors have declined to about 3 cents per food dollar, or about half of the 1939 rate.

He said the new services added to food in recent years have made life easier for the housewife who frequently now can buy prepared foods cheaper than she can the unprepared raw ingredients.

Once, he said, it took 5 1/2 hours a day for a housewife to prepare meals for a family of four.

"Today comparable menus can be prepared in 1 1/2 hours," he said. He said a housewife today can bake a devil's food cake from prepared mix plus two eggs for 42 cents. The cake would cost 53 cents if made from home-combined ingredients.

Troop 23 Scouts Receive Awards At Court of Honor

Troop 23, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church, held a Court of Honor Tuesday evening. Awards in Tenderfoot, Second Class, First Class, Perfect Attendance, Troop Officer and Merit badge classifications were made.

To Organize Area Civil Defense Ass'n at SIU June 9

An organizational meeting to complete formation of a new Southern Illinois Association of Civil Defense Directors will be held 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday, June 9, at the air conditioned University School Auditorium, Carbondale, Acting Chairman Dr. A. Frank Bridges announced today.

In late March, CD officials of 38 Southern Illinois counties and their cities joined hands to form this new association designed to further southern Illinois' program of disaster preparedness by area-wide cooperation.

The June 9th meeting is to finalize nominations and selections of officers, draft the association's constitution and by-laws and prepare a forthcoming calendar of programs, Dr. Bridges said.

He added that the forthcoming meeting would also include discussions of "Community Advantages from Civil Defense" by General John L. Homer, Executive, State Office of Civil Defense; "Surplus Property Program for CD" by Ernest Wolf, new Director of State Agency for Surplus Property, and "The Illinois CD Act and the Need for Civil Defense" by a prominent Illinois legislator.

Dr. Bridges urged all CD Directors and interested city and county officials in southern Illinois to attend this important meeting.

Asia at Crossroads, Viet Nam Chief Tells Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem of Viet Nam told Congress today that Asia stands at the crossroads of communism and democracy.

Addressing a joint session of the Senate and House, the 54-year-old visiting Vietnamese leader paid high tribute to "the generous and unselfish assistance" given to his nation by the United States.

He said, however, his country still faces perilous times because of its strategic position in the front line of the anti-Communist nations of Southeast Asia.

Diem's address to Congress was one of the highlights of his four-day state visit to Washington as the guest of President Eisenhower.

Earlier he conferred at the White House with President Eisenhower and other high American officials. Following his speech he was the lunch guest of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Confirm McLeod Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today confirmed, 60-20, the controversial nomination of Scott McLeod as ambassador to Ireland.

All of the 20 voting against confirmation were Democrats. Forty-two Republicans and 18 Democrats voted for confirmation.

By voice vote, the Senate also confirmed the nomination of radio commentator Henry J. Taylor to be ambassador to Switzerland.

First 'Dry Run' By Ike's Helicopters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's helicopters made their first "dry run" into the heart of the capital Wednesday.

The two small White House whirlybirds dropped gently down into the grassy ellipse behind the White House along with six larger military helicopters which will be used during the July civil defense test.

Eventually, the Bell H13J models will make landings directly on the White House grounds to pick up the President and whisk him to the National Airport for his trips out of town.

Congress Faces New Hassle On Postal Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress today faced a new hassle over funds to run the Post Office Department in the next fiscal year.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield told Congress Wednesday his department needed up to 90 million dollars more than originally requested for fiscal 1958.

The postal chief, who recently won a budget bout with Congress, warned he would have to make further cutbacks if the funds were not forthcoming.

He also asked a Senate appropriations subcommittee to restore the 58 million dollars cut from his new budget by the House. He said the funds were necessary because of the increase in the amount of mail handled.

But the subcommittee balked and restored only 32 million dollars. The full committee was expected to approve the 32 million total this afternoon.

Rep. J. Vaughan Gary (D-Va.), chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee that considered the postal budget said Congress should look into the possibility of curtailing some postal services. He said Summerfield could "reduce expenditures substantially" by cutting down nonessential services.

Death Takes Mrs. Wm. T. Murray

Mrs. Lula Murray, 78, RFD 3 Harrisburg, died at her home at 11:30 a. m. today. She is the widow of Wm. T. Murray. Mrs. Murray is survived by the following children: three sons, Lloyd, Noel, and Knox, and one daughter, Miss Frances Murray, all of Eldorado.

Also surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Carrie Graham, West Frankfort, Miss Hattie Knox, West Frankfort, Miss Ada Knox of Ojai, Calif., and Mrs. Mary Eckles, Rockford.

The body will lie in state at the Martin funeral home in Eldorado. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Plans to Fight Narcotics in State Proposed

SPRINGFIELD —A broad legislative program aimed at removing the "illicit narcotics cancer" from Illinois has been recommended to the Legislature.

Major proposals submitted by the Narcotics Investigation Commission, a legislative study group, in a report Tuesday would:

—Create a new enforcement agency, the Narcotics Control Division, in the Public Safety Department.

—Drastically increase penalties for violations of narcotics laws.

—Permit law enforcement officials to seize automobiles, aircraft, boats, buildings and other property involved in violation of narcotics laws.

—Establish clinics for rehabilitation of addicts, along with testing laboratories for narcotics identification and research.

The commission, headed by Sen. John P. Meyer (R-Danville), cited estimates indicating between 8,000 and 10,000 persons in Illinois are now addicts, with the largest concentration in the Chicago area.

The commission report also forecast an increase in narcotics traffic with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The report said research shows that drug addiction and illegal narcotics traffic are responsible for about "50 per cent of the total crimes committed in large metropolitan areas."

The proposed Narcotics Control Division would be charged with enforcement, in cooperation with local officials, of narcotics laws, and the establishment of clinics to treat narcotics addicts.

Penalties for possession of narcotics would be increased up to a

$5,000 fine and up to 10 years in prison for a first offense, and up to life imprisonment for subsequent offenses.

Such legislation is necessary, the report said, because the narcotics problem has "truly darkened the face of the state."

Valdes Defeats Johnny Holman

PORTLAND, Ore. (U.P.)—Ponderous Nino Valdes figured he was back in the heavyweight title picture today as a result of his unanimous decision over Chicago's Johnny Holman Wednesday night at Portland Auditorium.

The ninth-ranked Cuban battered his willing opponent throughout with looping lefts and rights to the body for his seventh win in a row. Holman, 204, had trouble coping with Valdes' longer reach, but managed to score well in the fourth, fifth, and seventh rounds. Late in the seventh, he staggered Valdes, 207½, with a right to the head but was unable to follow up.

Plan X-Rays to Determine Extent Of Eye Injury to Herb Score

CLEVELAND (U.P.)—Dr. Charles Thomas planned to x-ray strike-out king Herb Score's injured eye today but warned of "premature optimism" that the stricken Cleveland Indian pitcher's sight will be saved.

"It is still far too early to predict whether the eye will or will not be saved," the Cleveland specialist said. "The exact extent of damage to the eye will not be known for a day or two and possibly for even longer."

The 23-year-old Score, felled Tuesday night by a line drive off the bat of Gil McDougald in the first inning of the Indians' game with the New York Yankees, was reported to have spent a fairly comfortable night. Thomas prescribed "complete rest and quiet" and has Score in a completely darkened room at Lakeside Hospital.

Thomas pointed out that he may even delay the x-rays if he feels Score should have another day of complete rest.

The horror over one of the most serious accidents in baseball history gave way somewhat to optimism Wednesday when Thomas revealed that Score is able to see out of the eye. He pointed out that fact "is encouraging" but not conclusive.

"Fortunately, the ball struck him 'flush,'" Thomas said. "It caught the top of his eyebrow bone, his cheekbone and his nose. The nose was fractured. Apparently the bone structure of his face absorbed most of the impact that would have destroyed the eye. There is no brain injury. He also suffered a cut on the right eyelid and a bruised right cheekbone."

Score's teammates and the Yankees were still in a state of shock Wednesday with McDougald virtually inconsolable. The Yankee infielder, however, withdrew his statement that he would quit the game if Score lost his sight after the Cleveland pitcher sent him a message from the hospital room "not to worry about it."

Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg reported a flood of telegrams encouraging Score in his battle were pouring into the hospital. A Long Beach, Calif., man even offered one of his eyes but the offer was not considered seriously.

West Frankfort Man Named Grid, Track Coach at Metropolis

METROPOLIS, Ill. (U.P.)—Dean Renn, 22, West Frankfort, a former University of Illinois football end, has been named head football and track coach and assistant basketball coach here.

Renn succeeds Thom Gher, who resigned. Renn is serving as assistant coach at West Frankfort High School.

Bull Dogs Beat Carrier Mills, 7-2

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs scored five runs in the fourth inning Wednesday afternoon to defeat Carrier Mills, 7 to 2, in a prep baseball game played at the VFW park near the fairgrounds.

It was a five-inning affair, set that length by agreement.

Harrisburg scored once in the first and once in the second and Carrier Mills once in the second to give the Bull Dogs a 2-1 margin going into the fourth.

In that frame the big blow was a double by Ron Maynard, who had a fine day all around, which cleared the filled bases.

Trevor Whiteside hurled all the way for Harrisburg with Ronnie Vick behind the plate. Whiteside allowed four singles.

Collins started for Carrier Mills with Cowger catching and Mitchell went in from first base to hurl during the big Bull Dog inning. Harrisburg collected but five hits but three were doubles.

For the Bull Dogs, Jim Cummings had two doubles, Maynard one double and Gary Aldridge and Fred Denny had singles. Van Hoy, B. Smith, Collins and Manier got the Wildcat hits.

One Harrisburg player, Bob Pavlonis, suffered a nose injury in pre-game fielding practice when the ball took a bad bounce. He was taken to a doctor for treatment.

Tonight the Bull Dogs travel to Metropolis for a game under the lights at 7:30.

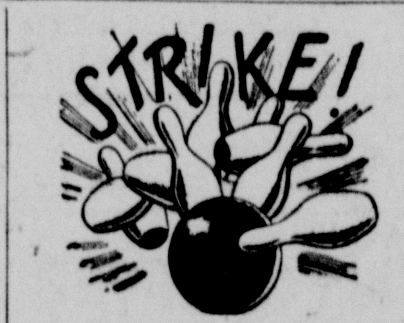

The Bull Dogs enter district baseball competition next week, playing West Frankfort in the Frankfort district meet.

Then the following week the regional will be held in Harrisburg. May 20 it will be the West Frankfort winner vs. the Fairfield winner. On May 21 the Enfield winner will meet the Shawneetown winner and on May 22 the regional championship tilt will be played. All three games here will start at 3:30 p. m.

Cain, Bankston Once Community School; Pupils to Hold Reunion Saturday

Cain school and Bankston school were once one community school, with the first school building located near Sahara mine 16, four miles west of Harrisburg.

W. A. Moore, father of J. B. Moore, attended the community school, 101 years ago, in 1856, and described the building and activities as follows.

The building was about 18'x20', made of round logs and having no glass doors or windows. The door was made of heavy clapboards hung on wooden hinges and the windows, about two feet square, were covered with greased paper. The fire place was an opening about 4'x6' cut out of one end of the room and a pen of logs, some eight feet high, was built, chinked and smeared with clay to form the fireplace.

The seats were made by splitting logs, dressing the flat sides with a foot ax or drawing knife, and inserting wooden legs in auger holes.

There were no desks. A board was fastened to the wall of the school with wooden pegs, which served for writing surface.

Quills made from the feathers of geese, turkeys or other fowl were used for writing. There were no tablets.

Boys carried their own axes to school and cut wood from the surrounding forest for fuel. The boys would cut down a tree and drag it to the front of the school building to show the girls their prowess, as axmen.

Sports consisted of the old games of "blackman," running base, and a game in which the children climbed to the top of a small sapling, bending it to the ground and "riding" it in a springing fashion. A favorite game was "fox and hounds," played by giving a chosen runner a pouch filled with torn paper which he carried as he ran through the fields and forest, leaving a "trail" of bits of paper. This runner would be released about five minutes before a school intermission, and there were times when it took the better part of the remaining school day to get the "hounds" back into the schoolroom.

The last schoolday of each week was devoted to old fashioned spelling matches and ciphering contests. Perhaps this served as a testing of the pupils' knowledge of the lessons in spelling and arithmetic studied during the week.

Among the teachers of these early school days were: Marion Ozment, Thomas Hall and Her Cain. Among the teachers at Cain school after its separation from Bankston were Thomas Ozment, John R. Ozment, Ab Cain, Braxton Weaver, Howell Lewis, Ben Russell, Robert Hinkins, Thomas Grisham, J. R. Tuttle and later: J. B. Moore, Wood Cain, W. J. Empson, A. A. Moore, Amy Cain, Amby Heatherly, M. J. Hanagan and Ernest Ammon.

Cain school and Bankston school are now a part of the city school system of Harrisburg.

The reunion of the former pupils and their friends, of the two schools, will be held at the Bankston school house on Saturday. This reunion will provide former patrons, teachers, pupils and their friends and families an opportunity for renewing old acquaintances and making new friends.

The Rare Adventure by BERNARD FERGUSON

THE STORY: Allan Larg has finally persuaded Captain Billon of the French gendarmerie that he is in no way connected with the native uprising on Seknou. However, they are all besieged in the police headquarters.

XIV
"Good," said Billon. "I wanted to take up a position in a small Berber farm up on the hillside, but Tunis has forbidden me to leave this building. I wonder if the Colonel would walk round it with me, and consult with me on its defense?"

Allan leaped at the chance. Mollie offered meanwhile to help organize this upstairs room for the long night ahead.

Billon led Allan cautiously onto the balcony, with a four-foot parapet as protection. Billon shrugged his shoulders. "I have no sandbags. But I have set some of my policemen—I have 40 altogether—to drag the steel cabinets and all the beds downstairs, or from the rooms at the back of the building, to make barricades across the lower windows at the front. And others are putting wire across the street and in the gardens of neighboring buildings, so that the enemy will find it more difficult to rush us. And others are quickly cutting down the bushes in the gardens of the hospital and the houses opposite. I am having buckets of water filled and placed about the building everywhere in case of fire."

"Will you please come down again," said Allan, "so that my wife can interpret? I don't want to make any mistake."

Billon nodded, and repeated all that he had said in front of Mollie, adding:

"Tell the Colonel, also, that I have allotted alarm posts and divided my 40 men into sections of 10 men each."

Allan thought a little, and then put a series of questions through Mollie.

"Have we any automatic weapons? How many rifles and pistols?"

"One rifle and one pistol for each man, and a few spare; six sub-machine guns; two tear-gas guns. That is all except for some flare pistols. But I think plenty of ammunition."

"What is on the other side of these walls, round the garden here?"

"On either side, more gardens; at the foot there, a narrow lane."

"So we shall have to watch this side pretty closely too."

"I have four portable searchlights; I am putting one at each corner of the balcony."

"Make it quite clear to him, Mollie, in your beautiful French, that he is to give me orders; I don't want requests, I want orders."

Mollie did so, and Billon said: "Very good. Please inspect the sittings of the searchlights."

"And when I have done that, may I look around the neighboring houses and lanes?"

"Take Sergeant Hameida along."

"Very well," Allan said to Hameida, when he had completed his survey from the balcony, "we will go out first by the hospital, round by the lane at the back, down toward the town gate, and back through the gardens opposite. I will go first, and I want you to follow a few paces behind; keep me in sight, and keep looking up at the rooftop and to each flank, in case there is anybody hiding who might have a shot at us."

Hameida signified that he understood; and Allan, thrusting into the band of his shorts the automatic pistol which Billon had given him, set off down the stairs. Only 30 yards separated the hospital from the Gendarmerie.

Allan could not help wondering what would happen to the wretched patients if real fighting broke out during the night. He could see through the windows native nurses in white overalls moving about among the beds. It was only a small building; it seemed to consist of four wards, each with about 20 beds, and not all of them occupied, but it was near enough to run a real risk from stray bullets.

Encouraged by the generally peaceful atmosphere, Allan decided to push on in the direction of the town gate, keeping well in to the side of the pavement.

It was while they were at the back of the hotel that they heard the sound of a car; and Allan guessed that it was Billon's car returning from its mission to the airfield. He wondered whether it had brought Brisebarre the manager with it, and how much help Brisebarre was likely to be.

The sun had not far to travel when Allan and Hameida crossed the road from the hotel to the hospital and so along to the front door of the Gendarmerie. He had been away less than 40 minutes, but he was returning much more confidently than he had set out.

He thanked and dismissed Hameida.

With Billon was Brisebarre, and

Allan liked the look of him at once. He was a slim, slight, good-looking chap, with a high color and dark hair; but it was his left hand which he put out to shake, for his right arm was missing.

"I was three years in England, and I still have an arm somewhere near Biggin Hill," he said smiling. "That is why I run aerodromes now instead of airplanes."

"What have you to tell me, Colonel?" asked Billon.

"All quiet," said Allan. "The two great dangers I foresee are the track beyond the garden wall and the vulnerability—if there is such a word in French—of searchlights."

Order Pay Hikes For Servicemen

WASHINGTON (UP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson today ordered military pay raises ranging from $12 to $50 a month for 360,000 enlisted men with special skills.

He said they will make it possible to reduce military manpower. The raises cover 15 per cent of the enlisted men in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force. They will cost about 49 million dollars in the first year.

Wilson's new pay plan apparently was as far as he could go toward a complete overhaul of the defense pay structure recommended by a committee under Ralph J. Cordier, president of the General Electric Co.

The defense secretary said the raises can be paid without legislation.

By providing incentives for skilled men to stay in service, the raises "will make it possible to operate with fewer total numbers," Wilson said.

The action was instituted by Jeff Price, Bert Aud, Daniel B.

Seek Quo Warrant Proceedings Against New Haven Assessor

A petition for leave to file a Quo Warrant complaint against Burnett Allen, recently appointed assessor of New Haven Township, has been filed in Gallatin County circuit court.

The action was instituted by Jeff Price, Bert Aud, Daniel B.

Stallings and Horace Stallings for the people of the State of Illinois, through the law firm of Bartley, Karber & Hale.

The petition states that Allen was illegally and without authority of law elected to office to tax assessor at a regular town meeting of the Town of New Haven on April 2, 1957, and has from said time up until the present time continued to usurp said office, without any authority of law whatever.

President Scales Down Aid Request

Asks Congress Leaders for $38 Million Program

27 Members of House, Senate at White House Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower made a strong appeal to Republican and Democratic congressional leaders today for passage of a foreign aid program of at least $3,850,000,000 for fiscal 1958.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said after the White House conference of more than 90 minutes that Eisenhower probably will submit his detailed program to Congress early next week.

The President originally asked $4,400,000,000 for the mutual security program. Today, he scaled it down to $2,800,000,000 for military assistance and $1,050,000,000 for economic aid.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said he understood from the President's presentation today that the reduction of slightly more than 500 million dollars will be a real saving, not just deferred spending.

In view of the apparent difference of opinion between Eisenhower and Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey over government spending, Johnson said, it will be up to Congress to decide what the final foreign aid figure will be.

"Strong Case" for Cut
"We are confronted with the problem of one-voice saying that we must reduce (spending) or have a hair-curling depression and another voice saying, 'If you do, you will endanger the peace and security of the nation,'" Johnson said.

Twenty-seven members of Congress—14 Democratic House and Senate leaders and 13 House and Senate Republicans—look part in the meeting.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Walter F. George and James P. Richards, former Democratic members of Congress now working for the administration in the foreign aid field, also participated along with officials of the State and Defense departments and the International Cooperation Administration.

Highway Race Crash Kills 7

POMEROY, Ohio (AP)—Seven persons were dead today as the result of a highway race between two cars that ended in a head-on collision Wednesday night.

Nancy McCoy, Cheshire, one of two persons critically injured with a skull fracture in the crash died early today. The state highway patrol reported six others were killed in the accident or died en route to a hospital.

The patrol said a car driven by John Carter Smith, 21, Middleport, Ohio, was racing with another when Smith attempted to pass a truck.

Smith's car struck head-on a car driven by William Halley, 31, Cheshire. Smith and Halley were killed and their cars demolished.

George R. McCoy Jr., 6, Cheshire, died at the scene and three others were dead on arrival at a hospital here. They were identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Halley, 32, Marshall McCoy, 40, and Mrs. Charles McCoy, 19, all of Cheshire.

The other injured were Mrs. Ruby McCoy, 37, in critical condition with a skull fracture, and Ruth Ann Halley, 8, Cheshire, with minor injuries.

Smith was alone. All the other dead and injured were in the Halley's car.

Hubert Boyd, the truck driver, was uninjured and his vehicle was only slightly damaged.

Mrs. McCarthy Boomed for Post

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A boom was developing today for the appointment of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's widow to his U. S. Senate seat.

Republican legislators were working to give Gov. Vernon Thomson, a Republican, power to appoint a successor. State law prescribes a special election.

Democrats, led by State Party Chairman Philo Nash, charged that appointment of an interim senator would be "not in the way of a democracy but the way of a dictatorship."

Support for the appointment of Mrs. Jean McCarthy to succeed her husband was led by GOP Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski.

"The voters elected Joe McCarthy and his philosophy for six years," O'Konski said. "There is no one who could represent his point of view better than Jean."

Morrison Justice, 71, Dies; Rites Saturday 1 p. m.

Morrison Justice, 71, of 119 North Michigan street, Harrisburg, died at the Lightner hospital today.

He leaves his sons, Geoffrey O. Justice, James Justice, Howard Justice and Dale Justice, all of Alton, Billie Justice of Ft. Leonard, Wood, Mo., and Bobbie Justice of Yuma, Ariz., in the armed forces, and two daughters, Mrs. May Welch of Alton and Mrs. Hazel Williams of Mitchellville. He is survived by his brother Ed Justice of Los Angeles, Calif., and a half-brother, Lyle Justice, of Farmington, Mich.; also two half-sisters, Mrs. Rosa Yoder of River Rouge, Mich., and Mrs. Vera Martin of Evansville, Ind. There are ten grandchildren surviving.

The funeral will be held in the Jones church, south of Equality, at 1 p. m. Saturday. The body, in the care of the Gibbons funeral home, will be taken to the family residence at 119 Michigan street at 1 p. m. Friday to lie in state there until funeral time. Rev. Clifford Potter will officiate at the funeral and burial will be in the Jones church cemetery.

Death Takes Causie Travis, 61; Funeral Sunday

Causie Travis, 61, of Gaskins City, died at the Harrisburg hospital at 4:40 p. m. Wednesday. He was preceded in death by his wife, Mable, in August of 1956. He was a retired coal miner and had been a resident of Saline county all of his life.

Mr. Travis is survived by his three children, Robert Travis of Peoria, James Travis of Harrisburg and Mrs. Mildred Deering of RFD 2, Stonefort. There are nine grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Roy Sheffield of Harrisburg, surviving, and four half sisters, Mrs. Ethel Cantrell, Mrs. May McClusky, Mrs. Margaret Brakey and Mrs. Pearl Hedger, all of Harrisburg.

The body will lie in state at the Turner funeral home until the funeral Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Dorrisville Baptist church. The Rev. William Fuson will officiate at the funeral.

Rabies Vaccination

A rabies vaccination clinic sponsored by the Harrisburg Humane society will be held from 1 to 5 p. m. Saturday on the Cherry street side of the Harrisburg city hall. Cost of the vaccination is $1.75 per animal. All dogs over three months can be vaccinated, it was stated.

House Approves Bill To Double State Police Force

Plymouth, Mass. Residents Flee Forest Blaze

BOSTON (AP)—Fearful residents fled their homes in a section of historic Plymouth today in the face of a rampaging forest fire. The blaze was one of scores which have seared thousands of acres of dry New England woodlands.

Men, women and children left at least 16 homes in Manomet Four Corners, a village of Plymouth where the Pilgrims first touched American soil.

The racing flames were fought by 5,000 men, including prison inmates, who were thrown into the battle to save lives and property.

The fire started in thickly treed Myles Standish Reservation on the outskirts of Plymouth. It raced unchecked toward the sea.

The 48 prisoners joined National Guardsmen, firemen and volunteers in the fight against the common enemy.

New England was mobilized for the worst forest fire peril since 1947, when woodland blazes leveled more than 1,000 homes and killed 16 persons.

A state of emergency was declared in Massachusetts where, a state official predicted, "all hell will break loose" today.

The state was the worst hit in a rash of forest and brush fires which continued to sweep across New England. More than 80 blazes were reported, 14 of which assumed major proportions.

Other brush and forest fires were reported in Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, and Rhode Island.

In Massachusetts, the worst forest fire outbreak in ten years prompted Gov. Foster Furcolo to declare a state of emergency Wednesday night as two major forest fires raged out of control.

House Passes Bill to Increase Pay Of Legislators to $6,000 Per Year

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The House today passed 136-6 a bill to increase its own pay and that of the Senate from $5,000 a year to $6,000.

The bill, to which Gov. William G. Stratton has indicated he has no objection, now goes to the Senate.

The Senate, meanwhile passed and sent to the governor a bill which would hold parents financially responsible for acts of wilful destruction by their children, up to $300.

Another bill sent to the governor for approval would fix the maximum compensation of election judges and clerks in primaries and elections at $25 a day.

At the same time chances for passage of a mandatory daylight saving time bill by the Legislature were all but dead.

Opposition to any daylight time bill Wednesday when it soundly defeated a measure sponsored by Sen. Clarence E. Sprinkle (R-Assumption), a southern Illinois farmer who said he wanted to end the "confusion" which results from parts of the state going on daylight time and other parts remaining on standard time.

The Senate voted, 24-17, to kill the bill, which originally would have provided for mandatory daylight time throughout the state from the last Sunday in April through the last Sunday in September.

A similar bill is pending in the House, but it narrowly escaped final defeat last week. Its sponsor hastily postponed a final vote when he saw the bill headed for defeat.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to reorganize the Budgetary Commission, increase its membership and give it more authority and a staff to help prepare the state budget.

The bill would provide for an executive director of the commission, add four legislative members to the six now on the commission.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House a bill to create a new division of alcoholism in the Public Welfare Department to head a program for rehabilitation, care and treatment of alcoholics. The bill carries a $300,000 appropriation to be financed by a two cents a gallon increase in the state tax on alcoholic beverages.

Other measures passed by the Senate and sent to the House would:

Appropriate $10,551 to Boulah H. Maxwell, widow of late Supreme Court Justice Ralph Maxwell, Nashville. The money is the amount of salary Maxwell would have earned had he lived out his term.

House Committee Recommends 'Do Not Pass' for Anti-Picketing Bill

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A floor fight was promised today over the House Industry Committee's rejection of a bill to ban "organizational picketing" by labor unions where the unions do not represent a majority of the employees of a company and where no labor dispute exists.

The committee voted, 25 - 16, Wednesday to recommend that the bill "do not pass."

But Rep. Harold Widmer (R-Freeport) said he would move on the House floor to overrule the committee vote and call the bill for a floor vote of the entire House.

The Industry Committee voted after hearing testimony against the bill by labor union representatives. The House chamber was crowded by more than 500 union representatives during the hearing.

Witnesses in favor of the bill had been heard at an earlier meeting. The union witnesses testified the bill was "anti labor" and "more restrictive than the Taft-Hartley Act" which, they said, does not ban organizational picketing.

Harold Katz, Chicago, a lawyer for the United Auto Workers, said the bill would make it possible for employers to fire workers who joined a union and thus "forever" prevent union organization of his employees.

He cited as an example a hypothetical case in which a firm had 10 employees. If 6 of them joined a union in the morning, he said, and asked for recognition of the union as their bargaining agent, the employer could fire 2 of them and thus eliminate the union's representation.

Pass Measure Over Opposition Of Sheriffs Ass'n

House Also Approves
Bill to Increase
Drivers License Fee

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The administration bill to double the state police force went to the Senate today with House approval which sparked charges of a new "deal" between Gov. William G. Stratton and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The House passed the message 138-27 Wednesday over the bitter opposition of the Illinois Sheriffs Assn. and with the unexpected support of Chicago Democrats.

The House also passed Stratton's highway safety program bills for an increase from $1 to $3 in the drivers license fee with the additional money to go to high school driver training programs, to require re-examination of drivers at the age of 70, and set standards for chemical tests for drunken driving.

The bill to add 500 men to the state police force and provide for an additional 100 to patrol the toll roads now abolishing had been advanced to passage stage Monday.

But Rep. George Saal (D-Pekin), a former Tazewell County sheriff and members of the sheriffs association, succeeded Wednesday in a move to bring the measure back to second reading for amendment.

Defeat Two Amendments
When Saal was successful in this move, Democratic Minority Leader Joseph L. de LaCour, Chicago, asked for a ten minute recess for a caucus of Cook County Democrats. The Democrats then returned to the floor and word quickly spread that Daley had directed Democratic support of the governor.

Two amendments, one to reduce the increase to 200 men and one to limit state police to highway patrol duties, were then defeated by big margins, with Chicago Democrats voting solidly against them.

Rep. Leo Pfeffer (D-Seymour) then arose and recalled the "deal" between Stratton and Daley in 1955 on the sales tax increase. "I understand the orders are out again today," he said. "I question the power of one man in Cook County to control votes in this House" and "I don't think it is right" for Stratton and Daley to "sell the people of 101 other counties in this state down the river."

Schools Get Money
Pfeffer suggested the "deal" would result in Republican support for financial aid for the Chicago Transit Authority.

During the day House members had been flooded with telegrams and phone calls from members of the sheriffs association in which State Treasurer Elmer Hoffman is executive secretary.

The association was against the state police increase on grounds state police are "infringing" on the duties of sheriffs.

The driver training bill and the drivers license fee increase would be used to reimburse school districts, up to $30 per pupil who completed a driving course.

Rep. Paul Powell and other Democrats and the Republican chairman of the School Problems Commission, Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh (R-Champaign) charged the governor's 225 million dollar budget for state school aid was too low and that the money proposed for driver training could be better used for teaching basic subjects such as the "three R's."

B. A. Wright Receives NYC Gold Pass for 50 Years' Meritorious Service

B. A. Wright of Harrisburg, who Wednesday received a gold pass from the New York Central Railroad Co. for fifty years of meritorious service, today recalled earlier days as an employee of the railroad.

Mr. Wright, a yard conductor, was given the pass, issued to Mr. and Mrs. Wright, by A. F. Smith, trainmaster from Mt. Carmel. Although he has worked for the company for fifty years, he will continue on his job here.

"It has been a pleasure working on this railroad for fifty years," Mr. Wright commented. "Sometimes the work has been hard, yet it has been a pleasure."

"I was sixteen," he continued, "when I began as record clerk at $40 per month, working 12 hours a day, seven days a week. Then I became yard clerk, chief yard clerk, switchman, conductor, assistant yardmaster, yardmaster, general yardmaster and back to conductor."

He said it was when he was general yardmaster when he worked 12 hours every day, and more if necessary.

"I was young and the work seemed too confining; so I went back to work as a conductor," he stated, adding:

"I can say I have never had a bad boss. The officials have been nice to me. I have never received a demerit mark."

Looking back at the work in the yards, he recalled that "at one time we had 23 operating mines served from the Harrisburg yard, and I imagine that one mine, Peabody 47, worked more men than there are employed in the county today."

"We then had as many as 18 freight trains a day, and two thru passenger trains each way daily," he continued. "We also had a passenger which ran from Harrisburg to Harco and return morning and evening and a train that ran from Eldorado to Cairo and return."

"Yes, there have been many changes which have been caused by competition, most of it subsidized as we all pay heavy taxes to build and maintain our roads. If every form of transportation should pay its own way, like the railroads have done, the railroads would have a brighter future."

Broadway Musical Star

Operatic Singer Ezio Pinza Dies at Age of 65

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Operatic basso Ezio Pinza, who scored his greatest success after he left the staid Metropolitan Opera House for Broadway musicals, died at his home here today.

Pinza, 65, had suffered three strokes since last August but his death came unexpectedly. Just one week ago the matinee idol's wife said he "was resting comfortably."

Pinza was a star for the Metropolitan for 20 years when he suddenly signed to play the lead in the Broadway musical "South Pacific" opposite Mary Martin. His last musical on Broadway was "Fanny."

He became a "new star" overnight—the idol of bobby-soxers, housewives, grandmothers and men of all ages.

Breaks Romantic Tradition
Pinza was a silver-haired grandfather at the time of his Broadway success and upset the stereotyped concept of "the lover." He later went on to score another romantic success in the movie "Mr. Imperium" opposite Lana Turner.

Born the son of a carpenter in Rome, Italy, on May 18, 1892, Pinza made his singing debut with a pro-

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Ohio Businessman Hit By Budget Complaints; Battle Of Budget Harder On Ike Than Battle Of The Bulge; Nixon Caught In Middle.

WASHINGTON. — A businessman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce variety got a taste of his own budget medicine from Congressman Wayne Hays of Ohio the other day.

William J. Hull of Cincinnati, representative of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, called on the Ohio Democrat on behalf of Ohio industrialists and Chambers of Commerce to urge more money than the budget allows for the Pike Island dam. He wanted to triple the money in the budget for study of the dam in order to get the dam started sooner.

"You're the people who are writing me letters about economy," replied Congressman Hays after listening carefully. "You're the people who want to cut out sewage disposal. You want to cut out all funds for cancer research and for the cure of heart disease. Yet now you come along when something is going to benefit you and your companies and you want the budget increased."

"I'm tired of people who want economy for others but more money for themselves," continued Hays. "I've got stacks of mail on my desk from your people urging economy. And I'll vote for it where I can. But I'm not going to cut everyone else and raise you."

The Pike dam would replace three dams on the Ohio river with one dam, thereby saving navigation time to those using the river, among them Weirton Steel. Congressman Hays said he favored the dam, but did not favor spending extra money to speed it up.

Mr. Hull picked up his hat and walked out.

"BATTLE OF THE BULGE" The battle of the budget is shaping up as a bigger problem for President Eisenhower than the Battle of the Bulge was for General Eisenhower.

In the Battle of the Bulge, crack Nazi SS troops infiltrated the Ardennes Forest during the closing days of 1944 and routed Ike's 10th Division. But General Eisenhower, though taken by surprise, did not have to cope with disloyalty from his own troops.

In the battle of the budget, President Eisenhower's chief problem is disloyalty from within his own ranks.

He has trouble not only with his own top cabinet officer, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, but rank-and-file Republicans supposed to fight for him.

It's supposed to be a strict secret, but the Republican congressional committee has actually hired a research director, Harkey Reiter, to fight against the Eisenhower budget. His job is to dig out facts and figures aimed at undercutting the budget submitted by the head of the Republican party. Yet he is paid by one segment of the Republican party, by Republican money raised by Republicans to keep Republicans in office.

It is unprecedented for this money to be used against a Republican President.

In addition, right-wing Republicans can congressmen have set up a super-secret task force to battle against their own President.

Heading the secret task force is Congressman John Ray of New York, former vice president and general counsel of American Telephone and Telegraph. Working with Ray are Congressman Bob Wilson of California, John Byrnes of Wisconsin, Gerald Ford of Michigan, John Rhodes of Arizona and Melvin Laird of Wisconsin.

Wilson was active in Vice President Nixon's previous campaigns. Rhodes is a water-boy for Arizona's Barry Goldwater, probably the most outspoken anti-Eisenhower Republican in the Senate.

Curiously, Laird formerly worked for Wisconsin's Gov. Walter Kohler, supposed to be a strong Eisenhower Republican and a former critic of the late Senator McCarthy.

The existence of this group has been carefully concealed, not only from the press, but from "moderate Republicans." Anyone who pries too closely is told that the group's official function is to prepare an expose of the nation's "fiscal policies for the past 20 years." This research will blast past Democratic budgets, of course, but it is really aimed at the Eisenhower budget and is part of the conservative bid to capture party control from Ike's modern Republicans.

UNHAPPY DICK NIXON

The man caught in the middle is Vice President Nixon, who is obligated to defend the Eisenhower budget and also hopes to be the liberal Republican candidate for the presidency in 1960. Nixon, however, doesn't want to antagonize the powerful Chamber of Commerce crowd. As a result, he has been doing political contortions, trying to keep on both sides of the budget fence.

Though he's reported to have given secret encouragement to the conservatives, in all his public pronouncements he has weakly defended the Eisenhower budget.

One of the most significant aspects of the budget battle is the way business and Regular Republicans have been working together. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce scheduled its annual meeting in Washington at a time when its members could swarm over Capitol Hill buttonholing congressmen to cut the budget. They did an effective job.

When General Eisenhower fought the Battle of the Bulge he was able to throw in troops from the continent of Europe, even rush extra divisions from the U. S. A. But in the battle of the budget so far he has been able to use only his own White House staff, plus his own voice. With a few exceptions, Republican congressmen aren't battling for him. They are afraid first, he might change his mind regarding the budget and leave them out on a limb. Second, cutting the budget is too popular at home. Third, Ike has not gone to bat for those, like Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, who have gone to bat for him.

MUDDY HANDOUT

New Hampshire's amiable Sen. Styles Bridges just returned from Texas where he went to sympathize with friends whose farms were dried up by the worst drought in Texas history. By the time he arrived there, a heavy downpour had hit Texas. Telling the story, Bridges reported: "It was raining cats and dogs. The whole state was turning into a sea of mud. The farmers were having great trouble wading through the mud to cash their drought checks."

Health Education

Workshop at

SIU This Summer

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Two state agencies, three state associations, a national organization, and a state university will pool their resources this summer to conduct a four-week Health Education Workshop at Southern Illinois University.

First of its kind in Illinois, the workshop is designed for public school teachers, offering four quarter hours of college credit. "Health—What To Teach and How To Teach It" is the theme.

Sessions will be conducted from 1 to 5 p. m. on weekdays beginning June 17 and continuing through July 12, according to the director, Dr. Edward K. Grissom, SIU associate professor of health education.

Main topics to be discussed are mental health, care of the body, nutrition, and prevention of disease.

Some of the state's leading physicians, nutritionists, and health educators will speak during the workshop, according to Dr. Grissom.

Registrations are now being accepted by the University. Information regarding stipends may be obtained by writing to Dr. Grissom at the SIU Health Education Department.

Sponsoring the workshop with SIU are the State Department of Public Health and the State Department of Public Welfare. Co-sponsoring organizations are the Illinois Tuberculosis Association, Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Illinois Heart Association, and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

MARRIED 67 YEARS SUNDAY—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wooden of Junction will observe their 67th wedding anniversary at their home Sunday with open house between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooden, now 86 and 82 respectively, were married at Louisville, Ill., on May 12, 1890. They have resided at their present home for 36 years, having lived on a farm near Junction for 21 years prior to that. The other 10 years of their married life was spent in Jasper County near Newton.

Mr. Wooden is one of three surviving children of a family of 11. He has two sisters, Mrs. Alt Varvot of Wheeler, Ill., and Minnie Wilson of Newton. The Woodens' only child, Mrs. Jake (Frankie) Kanady, died in July, 1955. They have a granddaughter, Mrs. Jim (Myrna) O'Brien of Anna and two great-granddaughters, Becky, 14, and Peggy, 6.

Social and Personal Items

Parents Of U. of I. Students Attend Mother-Daughter Weekend
Visitors from Harrisburg, visiting at the University of Illinois last Saturday and Sunday, included Mrs. B. G. Funkhouser, Saline county chairman for the Mother's Association of the U. of I., whose daughter Ann is a student at the university; Mrs. John Bell, mother of Judy Bell, sophomore, and Judy's aunt, Mrs. John Towle; Mrs. Frank P. Skaggs, visiting her son "Bill"; Mrs. Bruce Polk, mother of Charles Polk, sophomore; Mrs. Henry Winkelman, visiting her daughter, Dorothy, a freshman; Mrs. George L. Butler, mother of Norma, freshman; Mrs. Hazel E. Wollesen, mother of Judy Morse, sophomore; Mrs. Harold Berns of Carrier Mills, whose son is Max Berns, a sophomore; and Mrs. Oscar Hanning, mother of Dorothy Jane Hanning. Mr. and Mrs. George B. Lee drove up for Sunday to see their son, John Lee.

There were more activities for the parents' pleasure than could have possibly been attended by any one person, but among those most discussed in reviewing the week end were the Varsity-Alumni football game on Saturday afternoon, the coffee for the mothers in the Illini building from 9 to 10 a. m. Saturday-morning, banquets for mothers of daughters of many groups and musical and dramatic productions presented by the students for their parents' entertainment.

Mrs. Funkhouser carried the dues for the Mother's Association to the meeting for several of the Saline county members who could not attend. She registered their names, continuing their memberships, as the dues were received.

Mrs. Curtis Oehler of San Diego, Calif., is visiting this week with her mother, Mrs. Bertha Rains, her brother, Lloyd Rains and family, and her sister, Mrs. Fred Crabb. Mr. Crabb and family, all of Harrisburg. Mrs. Oehler is a former resident of Harrisburg and is visiting here following her visit which began the first of May, with her son, Jack Schutt, of Evansville, Ind., and his wife and baby.

Cornelia Leavell BWC Meets For May Dinner Meeting

The Cornelia Leavell BWC of the First Baptist church met Tuesday evening at 6:30 in the Educational building dining room. Twenty-two members and one visitor met for a delicious dinner and the Royal Service W. M. U. program. After dinner and the business meeting, Mrs. C. B. Pulliam presented the program on "Broken Cisterns" by Sibyl Townsend. Group singing led by Mrs. Laverne Clayton, and followed by a solo by Mrs. Clayton opened the meeting.

The devotional, given by Mrs. Pulliam, was from John 4:5-14; Jeremiah 2:13. Mrs. Otho Josey gave the topic, "Thirsty Children"; Mrs. H. D. Spence, gave "Satisfied With Good Things"; Mrs. Mary Musgrave gave "America's Broken Cisterns" and Mrs. Jessie Wiley gave "The Living Water." Mrs. Pulliam gave the closing meditation.

Meeting was adjourned with prayer for more Christian homes and special prayer for the revival which is to begin Sunday with the pastor, Rev. Joe Norman, doing the preaching.

Presenters Travelogue At Ridgway Meeting

Mrs. Eleanor Stinnett of Harrisburg presented a travelogue, illustrated with slides, made during her travels of last summer, to Psi chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma sorority meeting in Ridgway Saturday.

Psi chapter held the final meeting for this year in the Presbyterian church and it included a board meeting, luncheon and regular business meeting with Mrs. Stinnett supplying the program part of the meeting.

Mrs. Stinnett, an active member of Delta Kappa Gamma since 1941, served as treasurer since 1949. Mrs. Ida Mae Thompson succeeds her in this office.

Other Harrisburg members attending were Miss Alvina Shetlak, Miss Alice Mount, Miss Julia Williamson, Mrs. Bessie Kerley and Mrs. Mayme Carroll. Bernadine Mathews of Grayville is the recording secretary.

Union Grove Home Bureau Meets With Mrs. James Bond

The Union Grove Home Bureau unit met at the home of Mrs. James Bond of Galatia RFD 2 recently.

Mrs. Charles Conwell led a round table discussion for the major topic, "Blood and its uses." Mrs. John Waladis directed the recreation and the prize was won by Mrs. Byford Reynolds. Mrs. Wilbern Bond, unit chairman, presided at the business meeting, and refreshments were served by the hosts.

Attending were Mrs. Henry Clark, Mrs. Charles Conwell, Mrs. John Waladis, Mrs. Otis Stone, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Mrs. Luther Beers, Mrs. Lee Edwards, Mrs. Byford Reynolds, Mrs. Hobart Somers, Mrs. Wilbern Bond, Mrs. Noel Bond and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Andersen are visiting friends and relatives in Harrisburg, en route to their home in Estes Park, Colo. They have been in Hot Springs, Ark., and other southern cities during the past winter.

Mrs. David O. Haddon Visits County After Eight Years

Mrs. David O. Haddon of Tacoma, Wash., is visiting with relatives in Saline county after having been away for eight years. With her are her children, David Jr., Georgia, John, Jimmy and Wanda Jean.

Mrs. Haddon is including her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stearns of Waltonville, her sister, Mrs. John Jack and family of Chicago, her brother, William Strange and family, and other relatives of Saline county, in her itinerary.

Mrs. Haddon is the former Miss Jean Strange and will return to Tacoma about the first of June.

Jane McRae Circle Meets With Mrs. Randall Reed

The Jane McRae circle met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Randall Reed, 514 North Main street, with eleven members attending.

The meeting opened with prayer led by Mrs. Vera Benson. Mrs. Ed Creek, chairman, presided over the business meeting. Committee reports were given.

Mrs. J. B. Moore read Samuel 1:1-11 for the devotion, followed in prayer by Mrs. Corby Wickham. The program was taken from the testimonies of three missionaries, relating the influence in their homes of their Christian mothers. Mrs. Everett Hood, Mrs. Archie Abney and Mrs. Corby Wickham presented this part of the program.

Mrs. Louie Beltz read, "A Real Home." Refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour.

HTHS Students Receive Ratings At State Contest

HTHS students who had rated "superior" in the District 16 music contest, were taken to the Taylorville high school Saturday, where they were contestants in the state final music contest.

John Schork and Marshall Cochran accompanied the students.

The ratings given the contestants were as follows: Paula Reynolds, piano solo, excellent; Patricia Moore, flute solo, accompanied by Mrs. Hart, excellent; John Maszaros, clarinet solo, accompanied by Paula Reynolds, superior; clarinet quartet composed of John Maszaros, Janet Thompson, Jo Anne Priest and Allen Burbank, accompanied by Mr. Schork, superior; and Philip Kane, vocal solo, superior.

Superior rating is the highest rating that the judges may award, and excellent is the next highest rating.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Luther Wasson who passed away one year ago May 9, 1956.

I have lost my life's companion,
A life linked with my own;
And every day I miss him more,
As I walk through life alone.

Surrounded by friends I am lone-
some.
In the midst of my joys I am
blue;
With a smile on my face, I've a heartache,
Longing, dear husband for you.

I never knew that hearts could ache
With such bitter pain.
Longing for a vanished face,
To hear his voice again.

I never knew that nights could be
so lonely, cold, and dim.
But Oh, I learned so many things because of losing him.
God only knows how much we
miss him.

Never shall his memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall ever
wander
To the spot where he is laid.
Sadly missed by wife, Ora Was-
son, and children. 265-1

4-H News

The Future Farmers of Illinois met in the home of the leader, Mrs. R. L. Morris, recently. The president, Bill Rann, called the meeting to order and six members answered roll call. They were Ralph Gann, Billy Rann, Denny Murphy, Carl Ray Hall, Ellen Jane Morris and Jimmy Bond. Visitors were Fern Adams, Veneta Bond and Ellen Morris.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. There was a discussion about a winter roast and it was postponed. The members voted to visit each other's projects and they spoke of the showing of member projects.

Ralph Gann reported on live stock and judging. Mrs. Morris

Hoak Hits Grand-Slammer, Hacker Wins Third Game As Reds Defeat Dodgers, 7-6

By United Press
Don Hoak and Warren Hacker provide iron-clad evidence today that General Manager Gabe Paul has scored another trade coup in his efforts to bring the Cincinnati Redlegs their first pennant since 1940.

Acquired from the Chicago Cubs Nov. 13 for pitcher Elmer Singleton and infielder Ray Jablonski, Hoak and Hacker were key figures as the Redlegs ran their winning streak to nine games Wednesday night with a 7-6 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Hoak blasted a grand-slam homer in the eighth inning to give the Redlegs their winning margin while Hacker gained his third win of the year—the same number he scored last year for the Cubs.

The triumph moved the Redlegs to within a half-game of the first-place Milwaukee Braves, who suffered a 2-1 loss to the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Chicago Cubs walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-1, and the talked to the group about the aims and purposes of 4-H.

The meeting adjourned until May.

who won his second game, made Danny O'Connell his ninth strike-out victim to end the game after doubles by Johnny Lezan and Bill Bruton produced the Braves' run in the ninth. Bob Bowman's sacrifice fly drove in Philadelphia's winning run in the sixth.

Dick Drott, 20-year-old rookie, pitched a six-hitter as the Cubs won their third straight game and dealt the Pirates their fourth straight loss.

Hal Smith knocked in six runs and Stan Musial collected three hits in the Cardinals' 19-hit assault on Johnny Antonelli and four successors.

Gene Woodling and Vic Wertz blasted three-run homers and rookie Roger Maris hit a two-run round-tripper as the Indians routed Art Ditmar and made it two straight over the Yanks. Early Wynn, aided by relief artist Ray Kattuski, gained his third victory despite Mickey Mantle's fourth homer of the season which accounted for all New York's runs.

Ted Williams slammed out three homers to raise his average to .474 and account for all the Red Sox' runs. Ted homered off Bob Keegan in the first and third innings and then walloped a two-run blast in the eighth to seal the White Sox' fifth straight loss. Frank Sullivan pitched a four-hitter for his second triumph.

Bill Loes pitched an eight-hitter and Billy Gardner and Gus Triandos homered for the Orioles, who stopped the Athletics' longest winning streak in two years at four straight.

Invent New Way to Wash Coal with Air

Makers Plan Manufacture Of Units In Area

BY SAM HANCOCK

United Press Staff Correspondent
MARION, Ill. (UP)—A Marion and a Chicago mining engineer teamed up to invent a new way to wash coal with air and they plan to manufacture the units in southern Illinois.

The inventors are Emory O. Milligan, 45, Marion, and Ralph A. Lofquist, Chicago. Milligan is a preparation engineer for the Peabody Coal Corp.

Lofquist is president and Milligan vice president of their newly formed Elcom Corp., which will maintain offices in Chicago and Marion.

Their invention is a suction air washer for "coal and the like."

"We expect to begin producing of the suction air washer in August somewhere in southern Illinois," Milligan said.

Milligan first got the idea for the new type washer about four years ago.

Eight Months' Work

"Because of the increasing demand for higher BTU coal, the coal industry has been faced with the problem of the development of a machine that would clean coal without the use of water," Milligan said.

BTU stands for British Thermal Units, a measurement to indicate the amount of heat produced by a given volume of coal.

Milligan and Lofquist recently completed their first washer after working on it eight months. They have had six bids for it, but plan to use the first one themselves.

They plan to process a million tons of fine coal at the former No. 7 mine at Roylton.

The washer prepares coal for stoker and industrial uses.

Processes All Sizes

In the suction air washer operation, fine coal is fed into a patented deck. Jets of air from a series of manifolds on the side of the washer suspend the coal in the air.

But rock and other heavy matter that won't burn falls through a patented vibrating screen.

Their first suction air washer processes 50 tons of coal an hour and takes up only 16 cubic feet of space. It will process any size coal up to one inch practically, Milligan said.

The technique may have other uses, he said.

A man in Utah, he said, is shipping a mixture of coal and resin for a test in an attempt to recover both materials.

Among the advantages of the air suction washer is that it eliminates the problems of coal freezing in railroad cars which happens when it is washed with water, he said.

It also eliminates the danger of stream pollution from the waste products of the water method.

Asks $1,636 In Damage Suit

G. G. Mugge has filed a damage suit against the New York Central railroad, asking a $1,636.75 judgment for burned crops.

The lawsuit, filed in circuit court for Mr. Mugge by Atty. L. M. Hancock, charges that hot particles from an NYC locomotive escaped and caught grass afire on his farm in Section 17 of Harrisburg township, the fire causing crops to be damaged to the extent of $1,637.75.

The complaint charges the NYC with negligence in allowing the fire to start.

Plans to Fight Narcotics in State Proposed

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A broad legislative program aimed at removing the "illicit narcotics cancer" from Illinois has been recommended to the Legislature.

Major proposals submitted by the Narcotics Investigation Commission, a legislative study group, in a report Tuesday would:

- Create a new enforcement agency, the Narcotics Control Division, in the Public Safety Department.
- Drastically increase penalties for violations of narcotics laws.
- Permit law enforcement officials to seize automobiles, aircraft, boats, buildings and other property involved in violation of narcotics laws.

Establish clinics for rehabilitation of addicts, along with testing laboratories for narcotics identification and research.

The commission, headed by Sen. John P. Meyer (R-Danville), cited estimates indicating between 8,000 and 10,000 persons in Illinois are now addicts, with the largest concentration in the Chicago area.

The commission report also forecast an increase in narcotics traffic with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The report said research shows that drug addiction and illegal narcotics traffic are responsible for about "50 per cent of the total crimes committed in large metropolitan areas."

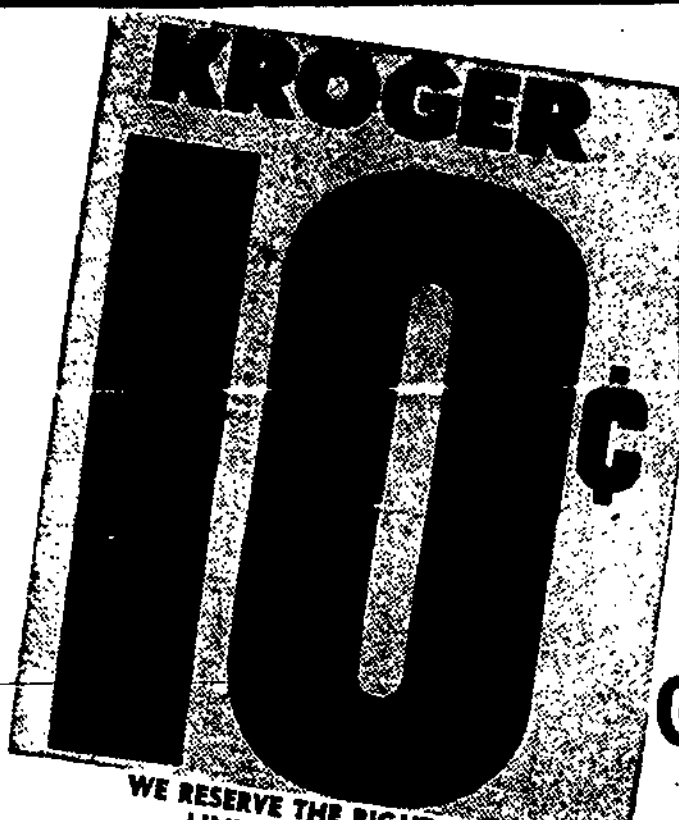

The proposed Narcotics Control Division would be charged with enforcement, in cooperation with local officials, of narcotics laws, and the establishment of clinics to treat narcotics addicts.

Penalties for possession of narcotics would be increased up to a

$5,000 fine and up to 10 years in prison for a first offense, and up to life imprisonment for subsequent offenses.

The penalty for illegal narcotics sales would be increased to 10 years to life for the first offense, and up to life for later offenses.

Such legislation is necessary, the report said, because the narcotics problem has "truly darkened the face of the state."

PORTLAND, Ore. (U.S.)—Ponderous Nino Valdes figured he was back in the heavyweight title picture today as a result of his unanimous decision over Chicago's Johnny Holman Wednesday night at Portland Auditorium.

The ninth-ranked Cuban battered his willing opponent throughout with looping lefts and rights to the body for his seventh win in a row. Holman, 204, had trouble coping with Valdes' longer reach, but managed to score well in the fourth, fifth, and seventh rounds. Late in the seventh, he staggered Valdes, 207½, with a right to the head but was unable to follow up.

Plan X-Rays to Determine Extent Of Eye Injury to Herb Score

CLEVELAND (U.S.)—Dr. Charles Thomas planned to x-ray strike-out king Herb Score's injured eye today but warned of "premature optimism" that the stricken Cleveland Indian pitcher's sight will be saved.

"It is still far too early to predict whether the eye will or will not be saved," the Cleveland specialist said. "The exact extent of damage to the eye will not be known for a day or two and possibly for even longer."

The 23-year-old Score, felled Tuesday night by a line drive off the bat of Gil McDougald in the first inning of the Indians' game with the New York Yankees, was reported to have spent a fairly comfortable night. Thomas prescribed "complete rest and quiet" and has Score in a completely-darkened room at Lakeside Hospital.

Thomas pointed out that he may even delay the x-rays if he feels Score should have another day of complete rest.

The horror over one of the most serious accidents in baseball history gave way somewhat to optimism Wednesday when Thomas revealed that Score is able to see out of the eye. He pointed out that fact "is encouraging" but not conclusive.

"Fortunately, the ball struck him 'flush,'" Thomas said. "It caught the top of his eyebrow bone, his cheekbone and his nose. The nose was fractured. Apparently the bone structure of his face absorbed most of the impact that would have destroyed the eye. There is no brain injury. He also suffered a cut on the right eyelid and a bruised right cheekbone."

Score's teammates and the Yankees were still in a state of shock Wednesday with McDougald virtually inconsolable. The Yankee infielder, however, withdrew his statement that he would quit the game if Score lost his sight after the Cleveland pitcher sent him a message from the hospital room "not to worry about it."

Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg reported a flood of telegrams encouraging Score in his battle were pouring into the hospital. A Long Beach, Calif., man even offered one of his eyes but the offer was not considered seriously.

West Frankfort Man Named Grid, Track Coach at Metropolis

METROPOLIS, Ill. (U.S.)—Dean Renn, 22, West Frankfort, a former University of Illinois football end, has been named head football and track coach and assistant basketball coach here.

Bull Dogs Beat Carrier Mills, 7-2

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs scored five runs in the fourth inning Wednesday afternoon to defeat Carrier Mills, 7 to 2, in a prep baseball game played at the VFW park near the fairgrounds.

It was a five-inning affair, set that length by agreement.

Harrisburg scored once in the first and once in the second and Carrier Mills once in the second to give the Bull Dogs a 2-1 margin going into the fourth.

In that frame the big blow was a double by Ron Maynard, who had a fine day all around, which cleared the filled bases.

Trevor Whiteside hurried all the way for Harrisburg with Ronnie Vick behind the plate. Whiteside allowed four singles.

Collins started for Carrier Mills with Cowger catching and Mitchell went in from first base to hurl during the big Bull Dog inning. Harrisburg collected but five hits but three were doubles.

For the Bull Dogs, Jim Cummings had two doubles, Maynard one double and Gary Aldridge and Fred Penny had singles. Van Hoy, B. Smith, Collins and Manier got the Wildcat hits. One Harrisburg player, Bob Pavlonis, suffered a nose injury in pre-game fielding practice when the ball took a bad bounce. He was taken to a doctor for treatment.

Tonight the Bull Dogs travel to Metropolis for a game under the lights at 7:30.

The Bull Dogs enter district baseball competition next week, playing West Frankfort in the Frankfort district meet.

Then the following week the regional will be held in Harrisburg. May 20 it will be the West Frankfort winner vs. the Fairfield winner. On May 21 the Enfield winner will meet the Shawneetown winner and on May 22 the regional championship tilt will be played. All three games here will start at 3:30 p. m.

Cain, Bankston Once Community School; Pupils to Hold Reunion Saturday

Cain school and Bankston school were once one community school, with the first school building located near Sahara mine 16, four miles west of Harrisburg.

W. A. Moore, father of J. B. Moore, attended the community school, 101 years ago, in 1856, and described the building and activities as follows.

The building was about 18'x20' made of round logs and having no glass doors or windows. The door was made of heavy clapboards hung on wooden hinges and the windows, about two feet square, were covered with greased paper. The first place was an opening about 4'x8' cut out of one end of the room and a pen of logs, some eight feet high, was built, chinked and smeared with clay to form the fireplace.

The seats were made by splitting logs, dressing the flat sides with a foot ax or drawing knife, and inserting wooden legs in auger holes.

There were no desks. A board was fastened to the wall of the school with wooden pegs, which served for writing surface.

Quills made from the feathers of geese, turkeys or other fowl were used for writing. There were no tablets.

Boys carried their own axes to school and cut wood from the surrounding forest for fuel. The boys would cut down a tree and drag it to the front of the school building to show the girls their prowess, as axmen.

Sports consisted of the old games of "blackman," running base, and a game in which the children climbed to the top of a small sapling, bending it to the ground and "riding" it in a springing fashion. A favorite game was "fox and hounds," played by giving a chosen runner a pouch filled with torn paper which he carried as he ran through the fields and forest, leaving a "trail" of the bits of paper. This runner would be released about five minutes before a school intermission, and there were times when it took the better part of the remaining school day to get the "hounds" back into the schoolroom.

The last schoolday of each week was devoted to old fashioned spelling matches and ciphering contests. Perhaps this served as a testing of the pupils' knowledge of the lessons in spelling and arithmetic studied during the week.

Among the teachers of these early school days were: Marlon Ozment, Thomas Hall and Hex Cain.

Among the teachers at Cain school after its separation from Bankston were Thomas Ozment, John R. Ozment, Ab Cain, Braxton Weaver, Howell Lewis, Ben Russell, Robert Hankins, Thomas Grisham, J. R. Tuttle and later: J. B. Moore, Wood Cain, W. J. Empson, A. A. Moore, Amy Cain, Ambly Heatherly, M. J. Hanagan and Ernest Ammon.

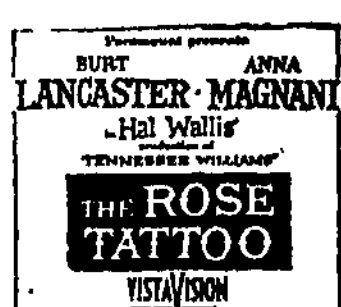

Cain school and Bankston school are now a part of the city school system of Harrisburg.

The reunion of the former pupils and their friends, of the two schools, will be held at the Bankston school house on Saturday. This reunion will provide former patrons, teachers, pupils and their friends and families an opportunity for renewing old acquaintances and making new friends.

The Rare Adventure

by BERNARD FERGUSON

THE STORY: Allan Lark has finally persuaded Captain Billon of the French gendarmerie that he is in no way connected with the native uprising on Sekou. However, they are all besieged in the police headquarters.

XIV
"Good," said Billon. "I wanted to take up a position in a small Berber farm up on the hillsides, but Tunis has forbidden me to leave this building. I wonder if the Colonel would walk round it with me, and consult with me on its defense?"

Allan leaped at the chance. Mollie offered meanwhile to help organize this upstairs room for the long night ahead.

Billon led Allan cautiously onto the balcony, which ran round the Gendarmerie roof, with a four-foot parapet as protection.

Billon shrugged his shoulders. "I have no sandbags. But I have set some of my policemen—I have 40 altogether—to drag the steel cabinets and all the beds down-stairs, or from the rooms at the back of the building, to make barricades across the lower windows at the front. And others are putting wire across the street and in the gardens of neighboring buildings, so that the enemy will find it more difficult to rush us. And others are quickly cutting down the bushes in the gardens of the hospital and the houses opposite. I am having buckets of water filled and placed about the building everywhere in case of fire."

"Will you please come down again," said Allan, "so that my wife can interpret? I don't want to make any mistake."

Billon nodded, and repeated all that he had said in front of Mollie, adding:

Allan thought a little, and then put a series of questions through Mollie.

"Have we any automatic weapons? How many rifles and pistols?"

"One rifle and one pistol for each

ed to push on in the direction of the town gate, keeping well in to the side of the pavement.

It was while they were at the back of the hotel that they heard the sound of a car, and Allan guessed that it was Billon's car returning from its mission to the airfield. He wondered whether it had brought Brisebarre the manager with it, and how much help Brisebarre was likely to be.

The sun had not far to travel when Allan and Hameida crossed the road from the hotel to the hospital and so along to the front door of the Gendarmerie. He had been away less than 40 minutes, but he was returning much more confidently than he had set out.

He thanked and dismissed Hameida.

With Billon was Brisebarre, and

Order Pay Hikes For Servicemen

WASHINGTON (UP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson today ordered military pay raises ranging from $12 to $50 a month for 360,000 enlisted men with special skills.

He said they will make it possible to reduce military manpower.

The raises cover 15 per cent of the enlisted men in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force. They will cost about 49 million dollars in the first year.

Wilson's new pay plan apparently was as far as he could go toward a complete overhaul of the defense pay structure recommended by a committee under Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the General Electric Co.

The defense secretary said the raises can be paid without legislation.

By providing incentives for skilled men to stay in service, the raises "will make it possible to operate with fewer total numbers," Wilson said.

Seek Quo Warranty Proceedings Against
New Haven Assessor
A petition for leave to file a Quo Warranty complaint against Burnett Allen, recently appointed assessor of New Haven Township, has been filed in Gallatin County circuit court.

The action was instituted by Jeff Price, Bert Aud, Daniel B.

Stallings and Horace Stallings for the people of the State of Illinois, through the law firm of Barley, Karber & Hale.

The petition states that Allen was illegally and without authority of law elected to office to tax assessor at a regular town meeting of the Town of New Haven on April 2, 1937, and has from said time up until the present time continued to usurp said office without any authority of law whatever.
